Avoid costly baking failures, says mother in this letter to her daughter . . . . .

Dear Helen:

Many women think that all flours are just alike because they look alike. And herein lies the cause of many costly baking failures.

Flour milled from hard wheat is intended primarily for bread baking. Its tough gluten is excellent for the slow actions of yeast but much too resistant to light quick leavens used in pastry mixtures.

Elegant flour, milled from soft wheat, is the ideal pastry flour. Its tender pliable gluten responds quickly and evenly to light leavens such as baking powder, egg whites, etc.

Use Elegant flour for all your pastry baking—avoid the risks of costly baking failures.

Lovingly,
Mother

GOLD PRICE HIKED AS MARKETS LAG

Dollar Tumbles to New Low Levels as Metal is Bid Up to $32.84.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's gold-buying program by which he hopes to raise price levels lifted domestic gold prices to a new high today but failed to stir the principal markets from their passivity.

The day's price set by the Reconstruction Corporation was $32.84, a jump of 17 cents over last Saturday's quotation, and 38 cents in excess of the London price. The London price was down 1 1/2 pence, or approximately 13 cents under the previous close. The new figure maintained the constant upward revision that has gone ahead since the domestic market was opened on October 25.

In the meantime, the pound sterling climbed to a new high of $4.92 1/2, exceeding its old parity under the gold standard. Stocks suffered one of the duller days of the year, with only slight changes in the price level of shares other than metal, particularly silver. Some traders said the lethargy was consistent with a pre-holiday season. Bonds were heavy, with both cotton and wheat lower, and corn pursuing an irregular trend.

The extent of domestic transactions in gold was disclosed earlier in the day by Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Corporation. He said $2,800,000 had been purchased, declining, however, to name the amount of foreign purchases, which he said, represented a "considerable amount."

ules to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce—another provision of the auto code to which the holdout Ford company is responding in line with its announced intention of "obeying the law." The schedules are expected to be filed not later than tomorrow.

Today company officials did not give exact figures as to the total employment in the Ford plant when announcing that "half the men are being laid off," but reported last week that 9,000 men would be given layoffs for seven days. They did not say whether this represented half the employment roster.

Several months ago the plant was said by officials to employ 45,000 men.

gressmen visited Washington asserting that something had to be done. The cotton loan of 10 cents a pound was the result. Meanwhile, millions in cash were sent out to farmers who had plowed up part of their crops this summer.

Farm administration and other recovery officials believe that payments of more than $102,000,000 to be made to wheat farmers, the funds for the $300,000,000 corn-hog program, public works funds, and other recovery steps will disperse the western farmers to give the administration more time to work out its plans.

They agreed, however, that the length of time required to make payments to wheat and corn-hog farmers had accentuated the unrest which has the farm holiday strike as one expression.

Both the farm administration and the national recovery administration have heard that the latter was none too popular in some western farming sections.

Johnson speaks in Minneapolis, Des Moines, Omaha, Kansas City, Tulsa, Fort Worth and Louisville before returning.

Wallace, himself, is unpopular with some farming elements, even in his native state of Iowa. There have been occasional requests for his resignation and farmers participating in the holiday movement have said harsh things about him.

Wallace is expected to discuss in detail the corn-hog program which he helped frame. He plans two speeches in Des Moines on Saturday and at Muncie, Ind., Tuesday night.

GOVERNORS TO APPEAL DIRECTLY TO CONGRESS

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 6.—(AP)—The mid-west will take beyond President Roosevelt direct to congress the farm relief program he rejected last week, Governor Floyd B. Olson said today.

Asserting the five governors who carried their unsuccessful plea to the White House were undaunted and along with farmers of the area were firm in their demands, Olson said a conference would be held soon to prepare plans for congressional presentation in January.

Executives of other farm states will be invited, Olson added as he returned from Washington, in the hope more will be represented than at last week's Des Moines sessions, where the rejected program was prepared.

An embargo on farm products shipments may be discussed, he asserted. He added he believed Secretary Wallace and others with whom the governors conferred in Washington to be sincere in their desire to help farm relief.

"But I believe," he continued, "they are more apprehensive as to the reactions in some quarters from the carrying out of our plan than they are doubtful about the practicability of it. They are hesitant at attempting it without a direct mandate from congress."

Chief points of the program were federal price fixing and marketing control. A system of licensing farmers was included, with definite limits as to how much each could market.

TROOPS ASKED TO KEEP PEACE IN MIDDLE WEST
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Bellicose farm strikers, the burning of a railway bridge and the shooting of a freight train brought an urgent appeal for national guard troops to-night.

Only 19 head of cattle, from farms just outside the city limits, reached the market today by truck. There were other receipts by rail.

Milo Reno, leader of the strike, at the same time urged his followers "to strike with all the power we possess."

Pickets on the highways were in a threatening mood. A St. Louis City newspaperman was warned away by brandishing clubs when he sought to drive through the lines.

Sheriff Rice, of Sioux City, and Sheriff Ralph Rippey, of Le Mars, attributed the bridge burning to pickets. An unsuccessful attempt to burn a bridge here last week also was attributed to farm strikers.

At Le Mars, Sheriff Rippey had the courthouse under guard. He was warned by telephone by a federal agent that pickets would invade the town to retrieve flares taken from them by the sheriff and would "take care of the courthouse at the same time."

The bridge, on the Northwestern railway, six miles north of Sioux City, was fired shortly after pickets sought to stop a freight train there. As the train passed on across the bridge, a bullet shattered a window of the caboose.

The bridge site is near James, scene of a dozen battles between strikers and truckers within the last year. The Le Mars courthouse, under guard last April, was the scene of the abduction of a district court judge, who was dragged into the country and beaten by farmers after an argument over mortgage foreclosure action.

POWER RATE QUIZ WILL OPEN TODAY

Commission Head Promises to Hear Any Citizen.
Hapeville Joins Fight.

With Chairman Jud P. Wilhoit promising to hear anyone who has anything to say on the subject, the Georgia public service commission today will open its investigation into electric rates charged by the various companies operating within the state.

The hearing will be on the commission's rule nisi to all power companies calling upon them to show cause why rates should not be reduced.

Assistant Attorney-General J. T. Goree and J. J. E. Anderson and James L. Mayson, city attorney of Atlanta; E. W. Maynard, city attorney of Macon; J. Paul Stephens, city attorney of Augusta; George Thomas, city attorney of Hapeville, together with other representatives of the people, will direct the presentation of evidence tending to support a reduction while the Georgia Power Company and other companies have a large number of lawyers ready for the hearing.

The response of the Georgia Power Company will be presented through the firm of Colquitt, Parker, Troutman and Atkinson.

Hapeville Seeks Rate Cut.
Edwin Johnson, chairman of the committee on streets, lights and water, of the Hapeville city council, said in a statement Monday night that the power company had refused to reduce the rate for street lights in the last five years, notwithstanding that assessments on real property for taxes had been reduced in the municipality by 30 per cent in the last two years.

"When the current agitation came to a head some time ago power company officials came to us," Mr. Johnson said, "but refused to reduce the rate on power for street lighting, contending that the Georgia public service commission couldn't do anything about it."

"The company granted us a 10 per cent reduction in city rate," he said, "current with which we pump water for community consumption, but on terms that made it no reduction at all. We were granted 10 per cent reduction in a certain period of time, which was no relief, because, like all municipalities, we can pay only when the money is paid to us; which means that we run behind 30 to 60 days in paying virtually all our large municipal bills."

"We told the power company we would have our city attorney look into the matter and appear before the public service commission the next time the commission went into the matter."

Mr. Wilhoit said Monday that the commission hoped to complete the inquiry in four weeks, or less, adding that the board would depend on its own experts for its evidence.

The commission has ordered the Georgia Power Company, the largest operating in the state, to produce property records on all electric companies it has acquired. The company also has been requested to present figures showing the prices paid on these properties and also to furnish the board with a list of stockholders as of November 1.

Mr. Wilhoit said that the commission would not go into street car fares at this time, taking up only the rates for domestic, commercial and industrial power.

The board chairman said Monday that he and other members of the commission were studying the record of the long telephone rate inquiry completed last week and that a decision would be announced as early as practicable.

WALLACE ADVISES PERIOD OF PATIENCE.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Asking for a fair trial of the new recovery machinery, Secretary Wallace tonight told industry and agriculture that they must pull together without being "unduly jealous of each other" to lift their load from the depression mire.

Wallace said in a speech that "frankly, the situation has been disturbing," but added:

"I believe that the recent increase in payrolls will soon be reflected in the stronger purchasing power of city consumers for our butter, beef, pork and eggs. There is encouragement for farmers in that."

"And there is also consolation in the fact that the rather rapid rise in industrial prices seems to have been checked, and prices paid by farmers have remained practically unchanged during the eight weeks of September and October."

Why the World is returning to liquid laxatives

CONTROLLED ACTION, EXACT DOSAGE, NO BOWEL STRAIN

If you have ever been a patient in any hospital, you are probably familiar with the advantages of a liquid laxative.

Doctors know the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can be controlled.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied with the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it.

Can Constipation be Overcome?

"Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say thousands who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Take the dose you find suited to your system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until the bowels are moving regularly without aid.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is one of the approved preparations, and the most widely used of any liquid laxative. It usually has the bowels as regular as clock-work in a few weeks' time. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is no "convenience" in any cathartic taken so frequently that you must carry it wherever you go!

In buying any laxative, read the label. If it contains one doubtful drug, don't take it. If you don't know anything about a preparation, ask some doctor about it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescriptional preparation with nothing to conceal. Its ingredients are stated on the label. By using it, you may avoid that constant worry about the bowels.

Parents:

The fact that a gentle liquid laxative does not cause bowel strain to the most delicate system and cannot irritate the kidneys is of utmost importance to expectant mothers and to every child.

All mothers are urged to try the gentle regulation of the bowels with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A delightful tasting laxative of delightful action, made of fresh herbs, pure pepsin and active senna. Not a single mineral drug to be absorbed by the system.

Dr. Caldwell's long experience with mothers and babies, and his remarkable record of nearly three thousand births without loss of one mother or child, should give anybody complete confidence in any prescription he wrote!

You can always obtain Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drugstore. It is an ideal liquid laxative prescription of fresh herbs, pure pepsin, and active senna. The temporary relief obtained from some synthetic, habit-forming cathartic may be dearly bought.

A FRANK STATEMENT

by the Makers of

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

We believe the unwise choice of laxatives is the most common cause of chronic constipation.

We believe the use of salts that dry the system, and mineral drugs in the form of pills or tablets is rapidly giving way to gentle regulation of the bowels with a liquid laxative.

We believe Dr. Caldwell's original prescription of fresh herbs, pure pepsin, and active senna is the ideal family laxative.

And we know it is a safe preparation for children and expectant mothers because it does not cause bowel strain, or irritate the kidneys.

SNOW BLANKET COVERS
NEW ENGLAND, NEW YORK
BOSTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—New England and New York today experienced the first snowfall of the season following two days in which the temperature touched or dropped below the freezing mark.

The fall in Boston was very light but sufficient to give a white coating to trees, shrubbery and untraveled roads. Tonight it rained lightly, with prospects of freezing temperature before morning.

New Hampshire and Connecticut as well as the western part of Massachusetts received more snow than coastal communities.

The weather bureau which predicted snow for today also predicted tomorrow would be fair in New England and eastern New York with slowly rising temperatures. More snow might fall in some sections tonight, however, the bureau's forecast said.

The votes of only three of the states which ballot today are needed to wipe out the eighteenth amendment. In the 33 which have so far voted, the result has been 11,329,190 for repeal and 3,735,637 against.

The New York mayoral election is regarded as having implications of importance to the administration. The White House has consistently maintained an attitude of "hands off," but the democratic generalissimo, Postmaster-General Farley, has openly announced his support of Joseph V. McKee, who said in a speech recently "a vote for McKee is a vote for Roosevelt."

Farley's interest is said to be primarily not the immediate outcome of the election, but the ensuing situation which would involve control of the political machinery of New York city.

Other mayoral elections have attracted more than local interest of those who are looking for trends. In Cleveland, a nip-and-tuck fight between Ray T. Miller, democratic incumbent, and Harry Davis, a republican, is under way. In Albany, Mayor John B. Thacher, I., democrat, is fighting Reynolds K. Townsend, an independent democrat. In Louisville democrats led by Professor Neville Miller, dean of the University of Louisville law school, are trying to unhorse republicans, led by Dan M. Carroll, who have been entrenched for 20 years.

Other spots along the campaign front are the legislative races in New York, the house of which is now dominated by republicans; New Jersey, which elects eight state senators and the entire lower house, and Kentucky, where half of its state senate and 100 members of the house are to be named. Democratic capture of the Virginia assembly is taken for granted.

PROBE UNDER WAY IN FLAG INCIDENT

HAVANA, Nov. 6.—(AP)—United States authorities tonight were investigating reports that J. A. Rubio Padilla, student leader, wiped his hands on an American flag at the Pan-American Airways docks in full view of a crowd of spectators.

Grant Mason, manager of the Pan-American Airways, and others said they saw the incident. It was said authoritatively that the state department already has been advised of the matter.

Padilla was boarding a plane with others for Miami, on the first leg of a journey to Montevideo where he will serve as an unofficial adviser to the Cuban delegation to the Pan-American conference.

HAVANA, Nov. 6.—(AP)—With terrorism spreading into the interior and threats of important strikes hanging over the island, Colonel Fulgencia Batista tonight issued orders to his army to deal firmly with all discordant elements.

Meanwhile, his chief aides were busy trying to locate the instigators of a movement within the army which some reliable sources believed to be the beginning of an attempt to stage another coup d'etat.

Details of the army movement were not made public and no one in authority would admit the existence of such movement, but reports elsewhere said the coup was being planned by privates against corporals, sergeants and newly-commissioned officers.

The city of Camaguey was in a state of excitement after 24 bombs had exploded there over the week-end. Ninety additional soldiers were rushed in from Santiago and Havana and they were ordered to break up the terrorism at all costs.

MERGER OF SHIP LINES IS NEAR COMPLETION

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The world's greatest shipping combination is expected to result from the amalgamation of the Cunard and White Star Lines, negotiations for which authoritatively were reported near conclusion today.

The aim is to form a single British shipping unit for north Atlantic passenger traffic, and the merger also would mean that completion would be speeded on the new 73,000-ton Cunarder and the keel laying of her sister-ship.

'TEX' WILL BE BURIED CLOSE TO BROADWAY

Would Rather Have Square Inch of New York, She Told Manager

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Funeral services for Texas Guinan will be held in New York city at St. Malachi's church, of which she was a member, friends said here today. The night club hostess died Sunday after an operation for intestinal trouble.

The body of Miss Guinan will be taken to New York tomorrow by George Guinan, of Portland, a brother. "I would rather have a square inch of New York than all the rest of the world," she told her manager, Eddie Baker, when she requested that she be buried there.

MAE WEST LAUDS 'TEX'
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The world of entertainment lost "a good friend and a splendid showwoman" in the death of Texas Guinan, in Vancouver. Mae West, a long-time friend of the night club hostess, said here today.

"I had known Texas for nearly 10 years," the actress said, "and her death came as a terrible shock. Though the public probably had the impression that Texas was only a night-club promoter who exemplified all that goes with night clubs, she regarded that end of her life as the 'business' side of it."

"When she left her night club she lived a normal life. It may be hard to believe in the light of all the publicity given her that she did not drink. Many a time I have known her to close up her club at 5 o'clock in the morning, then ride around in the park until time for church."

"Texas went to mass almost every morning of her life. She gave freely to the church and offered many people a helping hand—instances she herself never would admit or try to cash in on publicly. We've all lost a good friend and splendid showwoman."

Questions and Answers About Community Chest

The eleventh annual Community Chest campaign is under way in Atlanta.

One out of every five of Atlanta's citizens is dependent upon the Community Chest for food—for shelter—for life itself.

In other words, 60,000 people are crippled, ill, aged or otherwise unable to care for themselves.

As more than 2,000 volunteer workers canvass the city during this campaign, they will be met with questions which merit an answer.

Question No. 1 may be: "How can I afford to give to the Community Chest? My salary has been cut. I am helping to support relatives. I repeat, how can I afford to give this year?"

The answer: It is usually possible to give something. No one can reasonably doubt his obligation to do his part in caring for those less fortunate than himself. As one Atlanta businessman said to his fellow workers: "All of us have problems of our own. During the past several years our incomes have been reduced, but I think you will agree that all of us who are so fortunate as to have employment should be willing to contribute something to any cause as worthy as this one."

NEW GEORGIA HALL PATIENTS TO HAVE MANY ADVANTAGES

Many advantages for wheel-chair transportation are provided in Georgia hall, now under construction at Warm Springs, according to a description of the project written by Helen Holt and Frances McGaan, in the Polio Chronicle. The new building will be, in the words of the writers, "a Polio's paradise."

"The doors will be designed not to trap the unwary," it was said. "Opening and closing doors is very difficult for most polios (victims of infantile paralysis), therefore, particular care will be taken in order that they may be as manageable as possible. The most interesting feature of the lobby will be the desk, which will be lower for the convenience of wheelchairs. The top surface will project a foot or a foot and a half beyond its support, so that a wheelchair can run straight under it as a convenient desk. It will be in the shape of an arc of a circle to allow wheelchairs to run in close together without entangling back wheels."

"Opening off the lobby will be several large rooms, including living rooms, a library and a game room. The advantage of these individual rooms is that one or more of them will always be flooded with sunlight, regardless of the time of year. The corridors all will be wide enough to allow wheelchairs to pass easily and they will be equipped with two levels of hand rails on each side for the convenience of patients who can walk with a little support."

TORRES' RESIGNATION IS ACCEPTED BY GORE

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Governor Robert H. Gore accepted the resignation late today of Representative Rafael Alonso Torres as trustee of the University of Puerto Rico.

Meanwhile, the student strike called in protest against the appointment of Alonso Torres, a socialist, was renewed today after a 12-day university recess. The latest strike, however, presumably ended tomorrow.

The resignation reached Governor Gore only a half-hour before the executive dictated his letter of acceptance.

Enthusiasm Keynote as Chest Heads Meet, Report Progress in 'Advance Gifts' Appeal

Herbert Porter, chairman of the 1933 Community Chest, in conference with his lieutenants as they checked up on progress of the drive on "advance gifts" which opened Monday. Left to right, Frank Neely, chairman of the 1932 Community Chest; W. A. Parker, Mr. Porter, Mrs. Norman Charles Curry. Staff photo by George Corbett.

Enthusiasm was the keynote of the first meeting of the leaders in Atlanta's Community Chest drive at Rich's conference room Monday noon. Splendid progress was reported in completing the organization of the 500 volunteer workers who will spend this week in reaching about 70,000 employees of the larger businesses as well as those individuals who make contributions of $200 or more.

Reports from the four classifications of the groups division of the volunteer workers were heard. Charles J. Carrie, chairman of the groups division, reported that the following Atlanta firms already have announced 100 per cent subscriptions to the 1934 fund: J. H. Hilsman & Co., Inc.; Western Shade Cloth Co., Trust Company of Georgia, Jerome & Cowan, Penner, Beane & Ungerleider, Wolford Oil Co., The 36 Broad Street Store of S. H. Kress & Co., Fulton National bank, and Anderson-Clayton Company.

Joseph Horacek, chairman of the business individual division, reported on the progress of his organization as did his four colonels, Charles N.

Walker, Charles M. Boyer, Dr. R. E. Latta and W. A. Dobson.

Women Report Progress.
Mrs. P. S. Arkwright, chairman of the residential individual division, and Mrs. Oscar Palmour, co-chairman, also stated that the work of completing the organization for their group had been accomplished.

A poster by Percy Crosby, creator of "Skippy," for use by the Community Chest in the campaign was shown, and a letter from the artist read to the workers by Oscar Strauss Jr.

The relation of federal relief to the Community Chest, which is one of the questions often asked, was explained by Ronald Ransom, chairman of the Georgia relief commission administering federal funds. Frank Neely introduced Mr. Ransom.

Federal relief money, Mr. Ransom explained, is solely for the relief of destitute unemployed. The money subscribed to the Community Chest is for the maintenance of local charities caring for destitute and neglected children, the physically disabled, aged and tubercular people and other worthy charities.

Failure to maintain the Community Chest's work, he pointed out, might result in the withdrawal of federal aid, since it has been clearly stated that unwillingness to help itself would be considered unfavorable to a community asking for federal relief.

Talmadge Letter Approved.
A letter from Governor Eugene Talmadge to state employees received the approval of the Chest workers, the governor concluding his letter by writing: "Those of us who have jobs should do our part to help those who are without employment and are unable to help their own families. I hope you will generously support the Community Chest drive."

Colonels C. D. McKinney, Decatur division; T. J. Bryan, southeast suburbs; and Stewart Bird, of the Buckhead and north Fulton division, reported favorably on the progress in their respective groups.

Co-colonels of the residential individual groups who reported were Mrs. Trammell Scott, Mrs. L. H. Moss, Mrs. L. M. Abner, Mrs. J. R. Bachman, Mrs. W. L. Ballenger and Mrs. W. E. Huger.

In the groups division, reports were heard from W. A. Parker, George Winslip, Aubrey Milam, James L. Wells, H. M. Powell and Oscar Strauss Jr.

Mrs. P. S. Arkwright announced that a meeting of all the women workers would be held at her home at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon with the colonels, majors, captains and lieutenants asked to be present.

DECISION IS DEFERRED IN CRAWFORD HEARING

Judge Expected To Hand Down Written Opinion in Murder Charge Case.

LEESBURG, Va., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Judge James L. McLemore late today deferred until tomorrow his decision on a motion to quash an indictment charging George Crawford, negro, with the slaying of two women at Middleburg, Va., after counsel for the defense had completed argument.

The judge announced he probably would hand down a written decision on the motion.

Dr. Charles Houston, negro attorney for Crawford, in summing up his argument, charged that Judge J. R. H. Alexander, of the circuit court, had discriminated against negroes by not placing them on grand jury lists because of their race and color.

Commonwealths Attorney John Galtier in urging the court to sustain the indictment returned in February, 1932, declared the defendant had failed to show that Judge Alexander had discriminated against negroes because of race or color.

Crawford is charged with the slaying of Mrs. Agnes Boeing Isley, prominent society woman, and her maid, Mrs. Nina Buckner, at the former's estate at Middleburg, January 13, 1932.

ported favorably on the progress in their respective groups.

Co-colonels of the residential individual groups who reported were Mrs. Trammell Scott, Mrs. L. H. Moss, Mrs. L. M. Abner, Mrs. J. R. Bachman, Mrs. W. L. Ballenger and Mrs. W. E. Huger.

In the groups division, reports were heard from W. A. Parker, George Winslip, Aubrey Milam, James L. Wells, H. M. Powell and Oscar Strauss Jr.

Highlights of Johnson's Speech

By the Associated Press.
Highlights of General Hugh S. Johnson's address in Chicago Monday included:

"This country under the incitation of witch doctors has the jitters."

"Let the heathen rage. Their rage just now takes the form of dead cats and hobgoblins—that NRA interferes with freedom of the press—that it is unconstitutional—that it coerces industry—that it interferes with individual initiative and so forth."

"The biggest imitation dead cat is the one about the freedom of the press."

"Nothing will ever be done, in or by the NRA, to impair it."

"I do not believe in any restrictions whatsoever on the press today."

"In my official opinion there is no authority in NRA to license a newspaper."

"I think the licensing sections of the statute must be read with the free press clauses of the constitution. I think that together, they preclude the idea of any intent of congress to create any right in NRA to license the press."

"Licensing has not been done, it will not be done because it cannot be done."

"With such power as resides in the press... there rides a responsibility to be fair."

"It owes that responsibility not to the government but to the people who rely on government at a desperate time like this for their salvation."

"When I undertook this job I said it was like mounting the guillotine on a bet the ax wouldn't work."

"I knew it (NRA) was a law that stepped on a few toes—and some of the biggest, kicking, toes in the country."

"Franklin Roosevelt's guiding principle is to try to rescue America for the Americans. I will follow him blindly because I believe in his purpose, aim and devotion."

"There can not be more than one general in a war."

"No matter how he did it, Franklin Roosevelt has pulled one-quarter of the way out of the March depths in six months."

"It is no time for calamity howling. It is time to get ready to take care of increased business and to carry on the excellent progress thus far gained."

"The constitution was no charter guaranteeing such Wall Street freebooting as the United States senate investigation has disclosed."

"NRA is neither a dictatorship nor a bureaucracy. It is a form for national planning where every opposing interest had a voice."

"There are always about 10 per cent of any great movement who can be counted upon not to play the game."

NRA CHIEF RAPS NRA CRITICISMS

tent of congress to create any right in the NRA to license the press."

Johnson's speech was the first of a series of six to be delivered in the corn belt, rent at present by a farm selling strike. He delivered it before 4,000 members of the Chicago Association of Commerce and the Illinois Manufacturers' Association.

Hobgoblins. Appealing for full support of the recovery program, he said all the objections to the NRA, freedom of the press, constitutionality of the recovery act and interference with private individualism, were either "synthetic dead cats" or "hobgoblins."

He said the true grounds for opposition to the NRA were not those issues, but rather the desire of a few powerful men... for the benefits of the act but none of its burdens."

He said "they want to organize and combine and escape the inhibitions of the Sherman act but they don't want to give anything in return for these benefits. They want to give nothing and take everything."

He questioned whether some of the objections did not result because the NRA "raised wages and reduced hours of work and thus increased costs in order to relieve the despair of four million bread-winners."

25 Per Cent. Declaring the NRA and the Roosevelt administration have "pulled the country one-quarter way out of the March dumps, 25 per cent in six months," Johnson said it had done so without violating the constitution, menacing the freedom of the press, or coercing any industry into a code.

Some opponents of the NRA, Johnson said, have resorted to a device of witch doctors, which he described as "to set up a hobgoblin and then

Governor White, Ohio, Vet Dry, to Vote Wet

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 6.—(AP)

Governor George White, known as a "dry" for years, announced today he would vote for repeal of the 18th amendment and of the state prohibition amendment at tomorrow's election.

At the same time the governor said he would call a special legislative session shortly after December 5 in the event the state and national prohibition laws are repealed.

Johnson said that no witch ever danced around the fire beating "the totem and screaming at it."

"It is time to wake up and get rid of savage fetishes... This country under the incitation of witch doctors has the jitters. We are seeing things on the stairs."

No Censorship. Johnson heard the president say that he would not censor any department of the government, and that he wanted the trust to be said that no witch ever gave more absolute freedom than in and about the NRA, and that the entire administration had been more than cordial to newspaper comment and suggestions.

"We do not mind really honest and substantial dead cats," he said, "and I have some justly coming to me. My only complaint is that most of these dead cats are synthetic. The biggest imitation dead cat is the one about the freedom of the press."

"I am as devoted as any of these critics to the constitutional principle of a free press, and I am sure it will be done in, or by, the NRA to impair it."

"Opposition and criticism has not only been invited on every decision and action... Even in the formation of policies, responsible representatives of the people have been taken into confidence."

No Licensing. "Any system for licensing the press is wholly repugnant to me. Even as a soldier in the war I did not believe in any suppression of news, except as such as helped the enemy, news of project movements or conditions of supply and transport. I do not believe in any restrictions on the press today."

Denying also that the NRA set up a dictatorship, Johnson defined the recovery administration as "a democracy of industry, labor and consumers meet... a vast public corporation for the common good."

The only conditions imposed on industry by the NRA, he said, were those preventing the sweat shop and providing that every industry wishing to organize for its own benefits must do so with representatives chosen by its own labor.

"Beyond that there is no compulsion on any industry," he said. "If there be an industry that does not want to submit a code, it does not have to unless it is abusing its labor."

"We are entering an era ushered in by the leading men in industry and labor who are on our staff. That is the new day and deal and the whole trouble with our few opponents, is that they are seeing things under the bed."

"Certain sections of the press are inciting these jitters by headlines. My only request is that the gentlemen of the Fourth Estate give us a chance and not lend themselves to this primitive witch-doctor dancing."

Boston, Cleveland, Bridgeport, Hartford and New Haven held mayoral elections and Virginia elects a governor.

With both LaGuardia and McKee inveighing in union against Tammany, the Tiger's candidate, Mayor John P. O'Brien, has been content to stand on his record. The pudgy, earnest-looking ex-judge delivered his final appeal tonight from the marquee of a Times Square theater, where he was introduced by George Jessel, comedian.

Mayor O'Brien has thrust his great jaw out in anger a number of times during the campaign, especially to deny that he is governed by a boss or bosses.

Registration for tomorrow's election set a new record for a municipal campaign, more than 2,800,000 prospective voters having taken the required literacy test. A grand jury investigation of alleged illegal registrations already is in full swing, and it is said that more than 100,000 instances of fraud have been found.

McKee, Farley said, represents the same ideal of local government embodied in the state's "three great governors"—Alfred E. Smith, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert H. Lehman, the incumbent.

"I know of no better way of proving to every one how sincere I am than to state frankly to you that it is because I feel that the only way we can secure honest and efficient government in my own city, is to support here... those candidates, whose ideals of local government are the same as the ideals of the three great democratic governors, who did their best in this cause."

"For that reason, I am voting tomorrow in New York city for the recovery party candidates, who have presented themselves under the leadership of Joseph V. McKee."

He referred to McKee at the close of the address in which he appealed for election of a democratic assembly to co-operate with the democratic state senate and Governor Lehman.

NEW YORKER IS NAMED TO DAM POST BY TVA

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 6.—(AP)

The Tennessee Valley Authority today announced the appointment of Lee H. Huntley, of New York city, as construction superintendent for the General Joe Wheeler dam of the Tennessee river, 15 miles upstream from Muscle Shoals.

Huntley is a native of Neillville, Wis., and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1908, where he specialized in hydraulics and hydroelectric engineering.

He has engaged in hydroelectric projects in Wisconsin, western North Carolina and Colombia, South America.

Joe Wheeler dam, a navigation and power project, will be about 50 feet high and 6,000 feet wide and create a reservoir of approximately 100 square miles.

Alabama Barbers Cited For Cheap Hair Cuts

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 6.—(AP)

The price of a hair cut and shave has gone into Jefferson circuit court for decision. Judge Roger Snyder cited 10 barbers shops to show cause why they should be permanently enjoined from charging less than 50 cents to shear locks and 25 cents to shave a man. The Journeymen Barbers' International Union of America brought the action alleging violations of the code.

4,537 Banks Ask Insurance Benefit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)

A total of 4,537, or more than half of the 8,380 non-member state banks have applied for membership in the temporary insurance fund of the federal deposit insurance corporation.

Walter J. Cummings, corporation chairman, also announced tonight that 137 mutual savings banks in New York state, having aggregated deposits of $5,125,000,000, had signified their intentions of applying.

All banks which are members of the Federal Reserve system automatically become members of the insurance fund, which insures in full individual bank deposits up to $2,500 after January 1. State non-member banks can become members if they qualify.

He will not go until late this month, but as the secretary of state will be busy with the Litvinoff negotiations after tomorrow and leaves for the Pan American conference at Montevideo November 11, Dehuchi arranged to have his final visit at the state department today.

The ambassador told newspapermen he had not been advised of the identity of his successor.

FIFTH OF PEOPLE TO BE REPRESENTED IN VOTING TODAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)

The six states voting on repeal tomorrow will record the decision of one-fifth of the nation's population.

These states—Pennsylvania, Ohio, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky and Utah—contain 24,976,000 of the country's 125,000,000 inhabitants.

When these six have voted, the expression of 39 states comprising 101,855,000 people, or almost 88 per cent of the country's total population, will have been recorded. In the 33 states which have already voted, 15,004,847 ballots have been cast in the repeal battle. Those for repeal numbered 11,320,190; those against 3,785,657.

The votes of the six additional states probably will increase the total to almost 19,000,000. The total vote for president in the same 39 states two years ago was 38,375,243 out of the 39,734,351 cast in the whole country.

REVISION IS ORDERED IN RICE FREIGHT RATE

THE CURTAIN FALLS TODAY.

Six states—North and South Carolina, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Utah—will ring down the curtain today on the 18th amendment.

Conceived as an instrument which it was believed by its proponents would revolutionize social, business and home conditions, the amendment failed in its purpose, and became a medium through which crime has been financed, government corrupted and widespread disrespect for law engendered.

A condition of national sobriety, with the new generation ignorant of the taste of liquor, the promise of empty jails and of homes beautified by the use of money which before had gone for the purchase of drink—all these dream pictures have been erased by the flood of illicit liquors with which the nation has been engulfed.

So the amendment is to be cast out of the constitution!

Now the various states, with control again placed in their hands, must face the problem of how to best assure that the evils of the old days shall not reappear with the return of legalized liquors.

There must be no return of the saloon, with its corrupting influence. Temperance must be taught—temperance in this as in all things.

But the lesson of the failure of the "noble experiment" should be borne in mind in every state as steps are taken to meet the new conditions, lest by over-shooting the mark, as was the case with the national prohibition statute, the cause of temperance is harmed instead of helped.

FEDERAL HOME LOANS MOUNT.

Announcement by Frank Holden, state manager for the Federal Home Owners' Loan Corporation, that upwards of 100 loans have been closed in Georgia; that the total of these loans amount to approximately $200,000, and that other applications totaling nearly a half million dollars have been approved and will soon be closed, is encouraging indication that this federal relief agency which has lagged in many states is at least well under way in Georgia.

Undoubtedly some of the criticism which has been aimed at the lack of accomplishment in other states has been justified, but it is also true that much of their criticism has come from persons who did not stop to consider the huge task involved in setting up a statewide organization to handle, with due steps to safeguard the money of the government, a business which will make each of these state agencies probably the largest loan corporation in each state.

Realizing the vital necessity of the formation of a strong, effective organization to conduct so large a business, the Georgia agency officials wisely devoted the larger part of their first efforts to that end. The wisdom of their course is evidenced by the fact that the state, although of low comparative rank in population and wealth, is among the leaders in the matter of loans which have already been granted by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

Mr. Holden announced in his address yesterday before the Traffic Club that he has urged upon Washington the advisability of an increase in his investigation, legal and clerical forces in order that more rapid progress can be made in clearing away the several thousands of applications that have been received from distressed property owners.

Certainly, in view of the splendid record made so far by the Georgia agency, and of the manifest intent of the act creating this federal relief organization that the contemplated aid be extended as rapidly as possible, it would seem that this requested increase should be granted. That it will be indicated by the fact that the home office of the corporation in Washington has not hesitated to authorize expansions in the past, in the interest of speed and efficiency.

UNJUST TO THE BANKS.

Last week's issue of the Saturday Evening Post carries an interesting discussion of the banking situation generally, with special reference to the injustice done to the banks of the country, as well as to their depositors, in the criticism that they are too stringent on credits.

This criticism, in all probability, is a reflex of the disclosures incident to the investigation of the group of Wall Street bankers whose unethical methods have shocked the nation.

The country, of course, had a right to expect better things of the New York bankers, the record of whose questionable activities is still being unfolded, but it is not just that the banking situation generally should be made to share the blame.

The repercussion following the revelation of the tricks and short cuts resorted to by some of Wall Street's banking leaders, in order not only to deceive the investing public but to evade the payment of taxation, has been felt in every section of the nation.

But in all that has been developed nothing has arisen to discredit the soundness and the basic honesty of the general banking system of the country and the able and outstanding men who are its leaders.

On the contrary, the banks of the country are on a more stable basis, and in a better position to serve industry and business, than they have ever been.

Nothing would please the banks better than to be in a position to extend their loan accounts. They are here for that purpose. They have more money today to lend than they have ever had, but that does not mean that the security of their depositors' money should be jeopardized by wildcat loans.

It is fundamental that banks must protect themselves by safe loans or else their depositors will be the sufferers.

The banks of Atlanta have come out of the depression in better condition probably than those of any other city of equal size. They have carefully and intelligently conserved their resources and, even in the worst period of the depression, have met every reasonable demand upon them for loans.

This is largely true of the banking situation generally.

Weak and unstable banks have been weeded out by the depression and those that now operate have come through the acid test in splendid condition and better able than ever to serve the business of the nation.

The Savannah Press favors a three-hour week for saxophone players. Yes, and instead of crooners going on the air, give them the air.

The Elberton Star says the average legislator promises his constituents too much. Yes, and then spends the rest of his time explaining why he couldn't fulfill them.

The Thomasville Times-Enterprise says noise production is a great problem. Yes, there appears to be always a surplus.

Things are returning to normalcy. When you shake baby's bank now you can hear something rattle.

It's funny, but when the weather man predicts rain for a big football day, he seems always to be correct.

Now that New York policemen are going to improve their English, maybe the judges will speak in longer sentences.

Marconi is responsible for the radio, says an authority. But who is responsible for some of the announcements?

Canada and United States have signed a treaty for preservation of Niagara Falls. Maybe it's just a honeymoon agreement.

Banking is very unsatisfactory today, says a writer. Maybe it needs the personal touch.

"Women Will Not Forget" is editorial topic in the Albany Herald. Brother, are you telling us?

A Georgia professor has flipped a penny 40,000 times as an experiment. Now match it!

The honeymoon may be said to be over when he complains about her being 30 minutes late.

"Why not profit from the past?" asks a writer. Yes, but who in the recent past has made a profit?

Hitler Wants Peace.

Detached from the background of the home situation, Chancellor Hitler's declaration that Germany wants peace, and peace only, sounds the most encouraging note that has been heard for a long time from Germany.

Unfortunately, the chancellor talks one way for external consumption and another way for the folks at home. At home, the campaign of excitation is reaching ever greater and greater proportions. The German press prints unbelievable threats and menaces at the address of France, Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The mass demonstrations of Brown Shirts in the German cities take no end. Every week a new occasion is seized to muster a colossal parade or celebration of some kind. At such celebrations the Nazi spokesmen tell exactly tall tales and amplify to the contrary, "We are not deaf to words," said Premier Daladier, of France, in reply to Hitler's call for peace; "but we are not blind to acts either," added Daladier. This latter was a reference to the quasi-militarist demonstrations.

If France is so calm and quiet on the whole, except the reactionary chauvinist section of the press which clamors for sanctification of intervention at once, if the rest of France is so tranquil in the face of Germany's tumult, this is due to the certainty that France is fully equipped with coping with Germany in a military way. The generals are not worried in the least. And they have their reasons.

Oxford Group Movement.
This movement is gaining great impetus in England. A great rally was held the other day in London, which necessitated two overflow meetings.

Speakers from several countries, including Canada, South Africa, Finland, Holland, Germany and France—told why they believed that Christ could bring to the nations the peace and fellowship that He has brought to the Oxford groups to family and community.

Several speakers referred to the movement as a spiritual awakening. "When you have heard what Christ has done for individuals, classes and races, can you imagine what it would mean for the world if the same spirit of Christ were to be introduced into the international councils of men?"

The United States, he said, had all the factors, material and mental, for a happy and prosperous civilization, but she was in worse trouble than ever before in her history. The spiritual factor was lacking. If people would surrender themselves to Christ with all they possessed, then with great power and knowledge they would be used as His instruments the world could be reconstructed.

All this is eminently important, and it is the watchword of the Oxford movement carefully since its inception in 1928. I am a little partial to Oxford, for there came the Oxford or Christian movement under Newman and another great religious revival headed by the Wesleys. But a religious revival is not an economic revival. It is well to dwell together in unity. And good intentions are excellent, but to mean good is no substitute for to do good. And to do good in one time means to do good in the new needs without violence.

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

LIVER COMPLAINT HAS GONE OUT OF FASHION.

Cholesteritis (inflammation of the gall bladder) has succeeded liver complaint as a never failing subject of bridge table conversation, now that nearly everybody has learned where and how the gallbladder lies.

Many cases of gall-bladder trouble, with or without gallstones, present complications which demand surgical relief promptly. Some cases, with or without gallstones, present no troublesome symptoms for years or perhaps even decades. Between these two groups is another group of cases of chronic inflammation of the gall-bladder which may be successfully treated without operation.

In a recent contribution to American Medicine an Iowa physician, Dr. B. L. Knight, of Cedar Rapids, offers some practical observations on gall-bladder trouble. So far as the diet is concerned Dr. Knight is a butter and egg man—although a fat free diet is usually advised in the more acute or severe cases of gall-bladder trouble. If they do not feel any better, the fats in foods cause contraction of the gall-bladder, emptying and draining it. This might be painful in the presence of acute inflammation, but is not painful, and is rather beneficial, in the more chronic cases.

Years ago "non-surgical biliary drainage" was introduced, and widely used in the conservative treatment of chronic cholesteritis. This involved the use of the duodenal tube—a rubber tube inserted into the duodenum through the mouth, which the bile specimen was withdrawn for examination.

Such drainage is accomplished practically as well in the simpler way described by Dr. Knight:

The patient must go without food or water for twelve hours before starting treatment. Then he must lie on the right side and must not arise for any purpose within two hours.

Every 15 minutes a tablespoonful of the medicine. No other liquids are allowed during the treatment, which comprises from four to six these quarter-hourly doses by mouth. One-half hour after the last dose of medicine the patient must take a slice of heavily buttered toast or yolk of egg.

Dr. Knight thinks the medicine (described below) merely removes edema or biliary swelling from the bile tract, after which some fat (butter or egg yolk) is necessary to stimulate contraction of the gall-bladder and expulsion of its contents into the duodenum (intestine)—in other words, to drain it. He believes the duodenal tube itself may produce the contraction of the gall-bladder when the tube is introduced in the ordinary method of biliary drainage.

The results of this simpler method of biliary drainage are judged by the relief of distressing and dark green or black dejecta, obviously from the flow of bile. The drainage favors the passage of small gallstones when these are present. When the drainage causes pain or fails to give relief, it is time to consider surgical intervention.

Many patients using this simple biliary drainage from three to six times a year experience enough relief to carry on in comfort.

The medicine consists of all the epsom salts three ounces of elixir of lactated pepsin will dissolve, with one ounce of glycerin added after the salts are dissolved.

News Behind the News

By Paul Mallon.

LOVE WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The removal of the fleet to the Atlantic was merely to help the lonesome sailors' sweethearts in eastern ports.

No one can doubt the official announcement to that effect. The tars have been on the Pacific for three years. That is too long for any sailor to stay away from his sweetheart.

But it does not explain why the announcement was made six months ahead of time and almost on the eve of the arrival of M. Litvinoff. There is a better explanation for that.

BACKGROUND Mr. Roosevelt's invitation to the Soviets a few weeks ago caused considerable unwarranted disturbance in Japan. Touchy Japanese patriots always become excited at the slightest provocation. Their newspapers were then full of Russo-Japanese war talk. The position of our fleet in the Pacific had for years been a disturbing factor. Some Japanese extremists seized upon the idea that the consultations with Litvinoff, coming at this time, constituted a further warning to Japan. They intended to watch his visit here very closely.

No one will say that the administration will deny it, but every insider, and some outsiders, know that it is the situation Mr. Roosevelt had in mind. In effect Mr. Roosevelt is cleverly telling Japan that she has no need to worry either about the fleet or M. Litvinoff.

The sane and liberal element of the Japanese press will now be able to keep the patriots from running up a high fever while Litvinoff is here.

FACTOR There appears to have been another minor factor in the decision that was not mentioned.

The president has an idea back in his mind that he would like to visit the Pacific coast and Hawaii next summer. Also that he would like to review the fleet. He would get as much kick out of watching the parading men of war as a youngster gets out of a circus parade.

But it would certainly lead, to international misunderstanding in Japan if he went to the coast or Hawaii for the review.

Under the new arrangement he may be able to see the fleet in the Atlantic and make the trip to the coast without creating unfortunate appearances.

SALESMANSHIP A typical example of the Roosevelt strategy in diplomacy is his handling of the recent Hawaiian delegation at the White House.

The Hawaiians went there to demand that he drop the idea of having a non-resident governor. They wanted to kill the Rankin bill now pending in the senate. It would enable Mr. Roosevelt to appoint a non-resident.

The president did not say anything about that idea, but astounded the delegation by suggesting he might go to Hawaii next summer.

It would be a great thing for the islands, attracting tourist trade and business.

The delegation left highly pleased—without the thing it came for.

WHITE MEAT The man with the worst job in Washington is Interior Secretary Ickes. For a month he has been up to his neck in governors, congressmen, contractors and politicians.

All are trying to grab a little white meat off his three-billion-dollar public works turkey.

His office daily resembles a bargain counter sales rush. It is almost impossible for an outsider to get in to see him.

A senator returned to the capital recently shaking his head in amazement, saying:

"I talked to Ickes for half an hour about a project in my home town, but he did not seem to hear me."

"I guess I'll have to see Roosevelt about it because Ickes is too busy."

RUSSIA The state department has been somewhat lukewarm on the inside about Russian recognition.

Assistants Bullitt and Payer are the only enthusiastic recognitionists in the department. Secretary Hull mildly favors it. Under-Secretary Phillips has advocated strong precautions in proceeding with it. European Division Chief, Kellogg, has been dead set against it. That will make no difference, because these current negotiations are purely Mr. Roosevelt's own idea.

NOTES This date will be circled with red ink in history. Repeal, Litvinoff and the McKee fight in New York all coming at the same time.

A man with a telescope spot the Washington monument whippers he saw Professor Moley going into that famous Sunday afternoon monetary conference at the White House where the gold price policy was decided on.

The epidemic of Washington women's books at this time represents competitive enterprise among the book publishers, rather than the epidemic of the literary germ here. Publishers promoted the current tomes by Mrs. Roosevelt and Alice Longworth, as well the recent memoirs of Dolly Gann.

The state department carefully left out of the Litvinoff welcoming ceremony today the playing of the visiting diplomat's anthem. No one could imagine the army band playing the red international.

Badgering the Banks

(From The Saturday Evening Post.)

The time has come when it is for the best interests of the country to stop badgering the banks. There is nothing to be gained by high government officials and administrators of the NRA making lengthy speeches and giving out interviews on the slowness of banks in extending credit. Recovery is bound to be a slow process, and it is not to be hastened by denouncing any great class or group of individuals or institutions. This is merely the familiar device of drawing a red herring across the trail, of finding a scapegoat. It is an old custom, but none the less foolish, futile and harmful for all that.

Public officials are almost invariably in haste to have their programs, their plans and projects realized, whether they are NRA or something else. For well-known reasons, they like to give the impression that the objectives of their plans would be immediately attained if it were not for the stubbornness and dumb-headedness, if not the actual cunningness, of the public or that class or group. Whereas the facts are that in the very nature of things these objectives cannot be realized quickly and the loud outcry which conceals the sober realities of the situation.

The banking system of this country has many defects, and some bankers have given a bad account of themselves. But all this has been pointed out again and again, and nothing is to be gained by continual loud outcries from high quarters concerning what is probably not one of the real faults of the bankers at all—namely, their unwillingness to make certain kinds of loans.

Reserves in the form of cash and government bonds, which are now so readily increased, confidence, and no kind of confidence is more necessary than that of the public in its banks.

If for the charge that the banks will not extend credit, the first and obvious reply is that the banks themselves are made up of the very bone and sinew of the industrial and agricultural interests of the country. Bank directors, and, to a large extent, bank officers, are drawn from the business and farming populations of the country. They are not alien to the community in which they are doing business. They are not making it.

During the period of depression, the supply of good commercial paper dwindled away. Manufacturers, jobbers and retailers maintained large reserves in the form of cash and government bonds. They were not willing to borrow money to carry heavy stocks of merchandise, which were steadily declining in value, while at the same time consumer purchasing power was at a very low ebb. To blame the banks for this condition is merely one of the pathological symptoms that go with such times.

Naturally, the banks have learned in the last few years to be cautious in making long-term loans upon real estate and for capital purposes. Such loans are not so readily sold at banks at all, but at mortgage, discount and other types of investment institutions, as in France and Canada. Our banks have learned this basic truth of lending not through theory or textbooks, but from the fear inspired in them by their own depositors. They must protect these depositors, and to criticize them for doing so is not only ignorant but positively mischievous.

There is no real evidence that banks refuse to extend sound loans that can be collected with a reasonable rate. Only in this way can a bank make expenses or profits, or have any standing in its own community. Now, unless there be any doubt that bank credit will gradually expand as manufacturers, jobbers and retailers find the need for it. With normal improvement in employment, with a better balance between production and consumption, there is certain to be not only more bank-lending but larger bank deposits. To heap criticism and blame upon the banks only delays recovery, because directions will become that much more cautious. What recovery needs is less rebuke and more common sense.

QUEST BY NIGHT.
I am becoming a mass of shattered nerves. My sleep is being ruined. The night expedition into the back garden has become a terrifying thing, for I am temporarily baffled. A thin squeak will drive me wild, and unless I manage to get some solution to the problem soon I shall begin to fear to show alarming symptoms that will call for solitary confinement.

Here, come a little closer where no one can hear us. Really, I am assured of it. I am assured that a little thing should have me on the run. But at the sound of that squeak I am ready to go off my base.

The situation is this. Flying squirrels, unfortunately for me, do their living at night. That is, they are so preeminently nocturnal animals that unless one be gifted with owl eyes they are almost impossible to follow in their activities. While I can see them against the sky, sailing from tree to another, and occasionally see one with my spotlight, there is still the mystery of the squeak. I have heard it from half a dozen trees at once on nights that the squirrels were abundant. Nights that show no squirrels have no squeaks to worry me. Thereafter, one might argue, the presence of one requires the presence of the other, and the squirrel quickly obviates the mystery. Ah! How charming is divine philosophy! It led to the formulas for making food and for the making of a noise or two. A dead animal produced clouds of insects, therefore the insects arose in the tissues of the animal de novo.

An easy way out, but it is not science. If I am ever to learn the truth of the matter I must capture a flying squirrel, place him in a cage for a few days until I can tell whether he makes such a noise or not, and then give him his liberty.

It is the sort of squeak that you would expect to come from a mouse, but hardly from a flying squirrel. It is repeated at two or three-second intervals, and lasts only a fraction of a second. It rings in the darkness from the trees, not loud enough to carry any distance, but with just enough intensity of a sound to reach questioning ears. This is not the first time that I have had a glorious time trying to see the authors of various night sounds. Gnatcatchers such as whippoorwills and chuckwills—widows

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 6.—If "you wonder what's become of Sally O'Neill, she's right here in Hollywood sort of helping Peter Arno out with his first fight. That is, according to her version of the fracas between Drexel Biddle Steele and the famous cartoonist.

The newly revived Embassy Club was gayest than ever on Saturday evening with Doris Duke peeping at all Hollywood romping. Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone romping with the Clark Gables. Peter Arno's and Sally O'Neill's table the center of more romping. Drexel Biddle Steele, ace of Philadelphia's famous old Quakers, was a sensational star of the night, with the aristocracy.

Well, here's Drexel Biddle Steele's version of it:

"I was sitting there in the club having a very quiet time and calling over to Boris Duke whom I've known for ages, when Arno came over to my table."

"Hello Curtis," I said. He's really quite a nice fellow and I always call him Curtis because his real name is Curtis Peters and I met him under that name and somehow it always struck me. So I said 'Hello Curtis' and he leaned down and said:

"Steele, I've known you for years, but I don't like you; that I never liked you and I never will like you."

"To avoid unpleasantness before the young lady whom I was escorting I said:

"Well, Curtis, in my opinion not liking me is your bad luck."

'I AM A FUGITIVE' FILM BASIS OF $100,000 SUIT

L. C. Perkins, Deputy Warden at Stonewall Camp,
Charges Libel.

L. C. Perkins, deputy warden at Stonewall convict camp, Monday filed suit in superior court, asking $100,000 damages of Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., and others, alleging libel and defamation in the showing of the motion picture "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang." The picture, it is alleged, is based on the book said to have been written by Robert E. Burns, famed escapee from Georgia prison camps, and it is charged that the picture, by insinuating and reference, leads the public to believe that the plaintiff, who was in charge of Campbell county convict camp at the time of Burns' first escape, was guilty of acts of cruelty and violence toward convicts under his care.

The Perkins suit is the third one growing out of the escape of Robert Burns, now free in New Jersey following the state's failure to honor Georgia extradition papers for his return.

The suit, filed by attorneys Camp, Savage & Crawford, John I. Kelley and Charles Bergman, names Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., Vitaphone Corporation, Vitaphone, Inc., Rialto Theater Company, Atlanta Enterprise, Inc., Georgia Theater, R. B. Wilby, L. M. Savell and Earle M. Holden, as defendants.

RFC Sends Supervisor to Georgia To Aid Bankers Expand Credit

Seeking to aid Georgia banks in increasing their capital and widening the scope of their activities, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has assigned B. H. Swan, of St. Louis, to the state and is proceeding with its program of helping in the financing of the Georgia institutions. Mr. Swan has opened offices in the Federal Reserve Bank building.

Because many banks over the country have not the funds with which to carry on their community's business, the R. F. C. is aiding them by the purchase of preferred stocks in the institutions. In Georgia, because the state law prohibits banks from issuing preferred stocks the financing program will be carried on through the purchase of capital notes and debentures by the R. F. C. Mr. Swan is to be the corporation's state supervisor of loans and discounts.

The plan for the financing program was revealed to Georgia bankers here several weeks ago by Chairman Jesse Jones, of the R. F. C.

"The purpose of the plan is, of course, to get more money in the channels of trade," Mr. Swan said Monday. "This is done by putting money into the banks for business purposes. Some of the banks now have all they can use but there are many others which cannot carry on the activities they desire because of lack of capital. Then there also are banks which have not been able to do their regular business because of lack of funds. We aim to aid them, too."

Mr. Swan laid emphasis on the fact that because a bank sells its notes or debentures to the R. F. C. it does not by any means mean that the institution is in danger.

"Most of the banks taking advantage of the plan are doing it to broaden the scope of their activities rather than to meet current needs of their communities," Mr. Swan said. "Some of the strongest banks in the country are selling preferred stock to the R. F. C. and making good use of the funds acquired."

Under the plan the banks are to pay the R. F. C. 4 percent interest if the debentures are for three years or less and five percent if they are for longer than three years.

HUGE BLACKSNAKE PICKS COPS AUTO FOR QUIET SNOOZE

Patrolman H. H. Ramsey, special investigator for Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant, isn't afraid of the big bad wolf. Neither is he afraid of bold, wicked criminals nor anything else that walks on two legs.

But Patrolman Ramsey, when confronted by anything that slides on its stomach, is as helpless as a little boy in the grip of a nightmare. He frankly admits it.

So, you may well imagine the gentlemen's panic Monday afternoon when, riding peacefully to town, he heard a hissing noise on the back seat of his car, and, turning his head, saw coiled on his rump a big black snake as big as a man's arm.

Patrolman Ramsey's reaction, in view of his snake-phobia, does the man credit. Instead of wildly turning the car over, as his first impulse, he drove gingerly until he reached several negroes, who, much to his relief, disposed of the snake in quick order.

"But, a blacksnake won't hurt you," Ramsey was advised at headquarters on recounting his experience. "Snakes is snakes to me," was his reply.

PRIZE BIOGRAPHY TO BE LECTURE TOPIC

This is one of the "Half Hours With Modern Writers" series held at 10 o'clock each Tuesday morning.

These talks are open to the public without charge. They begin promptly at 10 o'clock, and last half an hour.

DOCTOR, LAWYER HELD ON MAIL FRAUD CHARGE

Erwin R. Hill, pioneer lawyer, and Dr. Jasper Anderson, who lives on Simpson street, were arraigned in federal district court Monday charged with misuse of the mail in connection with the wreck of a train on the Atlanta & West Point railroad, near Camp Jessup, last August.

J. B. Kierbow went on the stand just before adjournment, and said that Hill told him that if he and J. A. Hunnicutt, a friend, would pretend to have been hurt in the wreck he could collect damages. Kierbow said he informed the railroad of the offer, and it told him to go ahead with it. He said that he and Hunnicutt were painted with iodine and liberally bandaged by Dr. Anderson as part of the deception.

The government charged that both defendants made overtures to the railroad for settlement, using the mail. The case will be resumed this morning.

Jobless to Get Chance As Postoffice "Extras"

Atlanta's needy unemployed will be given the first chance to get extra work at the postoffice during the Christmas holidays, according to orders issued to postmasters Monday by Postmaster General Percy F. Washington. Postmasters were directed to co-operate with relief and veteran organizations in this end.

The orders also said that carrier deliveries and window service, meaning the sale of stamps, will be suspended on Sunday, December 24, and on Christmas Day. Only perishable and special delivery mail will be delivered on those two days.

Postmaster J. E. Lewis had not received the order Monday, but expected it by the middle of the week. Hitherto extra Christmas work has been assigned to those on the eligible list.

JUDGE DISMISSES BOWEN INDICTMENT

Pryor Bowen, Lavonia youth who was put on probation after conviction in the John K. Olt kidnapping case, Monday was given a clean bill of health when Judge R. N. Hardeman, visiting judge, presiding in superior court, dismissed a robbery indictment against young Bowen.

Bowen had served six weeks of a 12-month sentence and was placed on probation 10 days ago and permitted to go to his home in Lavonia. William R. Delinski, Bowen's companion in the abduction of July 6 of the Atlanta banker, is now serving a sentence of from 21 to 28 years for his part in the affair.

Niagara Mere 'Trickle' As Wind Checks Water

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Unless the flow of water down the Niagara river increases, Niagara Falls stands a good chance of going completely dry.

A very little water is going over the falls now and the generally roaring cataract has a strange appearance with many unfamiliar rocks exposed to view. The water level in the gorge is 18 feet lower than it was last week.

The reason for this mere trickle is a stiff east wind which has pushed the water back into Lake Erie and has reduced the Niagara river to hardly more than a creek.

LONGER SCHOOL DAY SCORED AT HEARING

Sutton Leads Defense of Change; Committee To Reach Decision.

Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of public schools, school administration officials and some few patrons Monday afternoon defended the longer school day for Atlanta, and a large delegation headed by Marion S. Hamilton scored it as a detriment to the health and comfort of students and as a decided inconvenience to parents.

The rules committee, headed by Commissioner George C. Garner, spent about three hours hearing various arguments and adjourned. A recommendation will be ready for the board's regular meeting to be held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, November 14.

Sutton told those assembled that entire elimination of home work was never intended with the extension of an additional hour a day to the high school day, but that it would be reduced. He said reports concerning application of the plan had been misleading.

Hamilton and those supporting him argued that the long day without elimination of home study curbed outside educational activities, prevented proper outdoor exercise and caused irregular eating hours for students.

PETROLEUM GROUP RESOLUTION RAPS FIXING OF PRICES

Protests against price fixing on petroleum and its products as promulgated by Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes and against elimination of General Hugh Johnson as administrator of the oil industry were voiced Monday in resolutions received from the southeastern division of Independent Petroleum Association of America following a recent meeting at the Ansley hotel.

The resolutions declare that resulting from the increase in the price of crude oil is going largely to the big oil companies, enriching the few and exploiting the many. The association said that General Johnson had exhibited a high sense of justice and showed an unwavering determination to see that the independent interests were protected "against the rough-shod methods of the major interests."

Ickes, the resolutions state, "played exclusively into the hands of the entrenched interests," and is now "apparently using the great power conferred on him to carry out uniform price fixing, which, if persisted in, will penalize the American consuming public to the extent of untold millions of dollars, and will destroy millions of dollars of investments made by independent gasoline dealers."

Ques. Why do you say that St. Joseph Aspirin is always fresh and fully effective?

Ans. When unprotected aspirin is prematurely exposed to moisture in the air, it often decomposes in its box and its effectiveness is thus materially reduced. This never happens to St. Joseph Aspirin because its original purity and full strength are sealed in by its moisture-proof cellophane wrap. That's why St. Joseph Aspirin is always fresh, always fully effective.

The Banks have money to lend!

Yes—this bank and hundreds of others throughout the nation have money to lend —millions of dollars to lend. That is the normal and natural function of a bank.

If you are a business man with a legitimate need for money, you should feel free to come to the bank and talk the matter over. The Citizens & Southern officers will welcome you—they will give you all the time necessary to go into every detail of your situation.

More than that—if the condition of your business warrants it, the credit justified by your needs and the progress of your operations will be made available to you. Money in a commercial bank is there for two purposes—safe keeping for the depositors and safe lending by the bank to aid the business units of the city it serves.

I have discussed this situation thoroughly with the bank officers. They recognize that business men are confronted with many problems—some old some new. They are ready and willing to help in every way consistent with their primary obligations to thousands of depositors.

Jobless to Get Chance As Postoffice "Extras"

Atlanta's needy unemployed will be given the first chance to get extra work at the postoffice during the Christmas holidays, according to orders issued to postmasters Monday by Postmaster General Percy F. Washington. Postmasters were directed to co-operate with relief and veteran organizations in this end.

The orders also said that carrier deliveries and window service, meaning the sale of stamps, will be suspended on Sunday, December 24, and on Christmas Day. Only perishable and special delivery mail will be delivered on those two days.

Postmaster J. E. Lewis had not received the order Monday, but expected it by the middle of the week. Hitherto extra Christmas work has been assigned to those on the eligible list.

INDIAN SUMMER.

Patter of rain on autumn leaves,
Breath of the fresh fall air—
Who for the truant springtime grieves
Or for the summer fair?
Sweep of the shower on glistening street,
Tang of the aging year—
What but the Present is ever sweet?
Why for the past shed a tear?

THAT "BILLIARD PASS"—AND OTHER DAFFY HAPPENINGS.

The "billiard pass," which went from the upflung hands of Johnny Pool, Tech center, into the hands of Lang Wroton, child of destiny and Vanderbilt end, to give Vanderbilt a victory over Tech Saturday at Nashville, was just one of many unusual, or daffy, happenings in the games of that day.

Illinois took the most infrequently used privilege of a try for goal after a free catch of a punt in the Michigan game Saturday.

The kick was made from the 31-yard line with just 15 seconds left to play. It was missed by inches and Michigan won, 7 to 6.

Had THAT play been good—what a lot of fun there'd have been at Michigan.

Detroit put Holy Cross on the spot on the opening kickoff. The Detroit receiver caught the kick-off and punted it back WHILE RUNNING, the ball being killed on the Crusaders' 3-yard line—a most unpleasant place to be. It so upset the undefeated easterners that they collapsed and lost, 24 to 0, in the only real upset of the day.

Paul Pardoner, Purdue's drop-kicking back, has booted 26 out of 28 points after touchdowns, but up to Saturday had not tried for a field goal. He was called on Saturday and kicked one over from the 18-yard line.

In beating the Tartans of Carnegie Tech, Purdue ran to 45 the string of games in which it has scored at least one touchdown.

MOST AMAZING.

Notre Dame may yet crush some favored foe—unless the defeat by Navy wrecks the morale of the South Bend team. The figures of the Navy game, won by the Midshipmen, 7 to 0, are most amazing. And indicate just how very, very much less than nothing the figures of a game mean—excepting those on the scoreboard.

Notre Dame made a total of 406 yards passing and rushing, while Navy made only 58.

In another game Nebraska gained 401 yards (five less than Notre Dame) against Missouri. Missouri gained 94 yards, 36 MORE than Navy—which won her game.

Yet Missouri was defeated, 26-0.

Notre Dame had the power. If the Irish ever get a quarterback who can direct that attack—it will be too, too bad for someone. And a lot of old curmudgeons are hoping it will be Southern Cal against whom the Irish get that quarterback.

THESE OPEN SABBATHS! TSK! TSK! TSK!

All day long Sunday a young wask model in one of the department store windows had her dress slipped down over one shoulder. And yesterday morning it was back up again. It all goes to show just what the open Sunday WILL do.

THE WALKER HOUNDS COME THROUGH.

There is bad news for the July, the Trigg and the Bird-song fox hound owners in the news from Old Kaintuck.

Big Coaster, a stout-hearted Walker hound, owned by the Winn brothers from far-away Nashua, N. H., won the national all-age race for fox hounds at Mt. Sterling last Saturday.

This was added to the victory in the Chase Futurity of the same national trial won by Alex Parrish's Walker hounds from Bera, Ky.

The Walkers, as usual, scored convincing triumphs. The July hound, greatest rival of the Walker, is faster on the trail. He cuts corners, so to speak. But the Walker sticks his nose on the trail and there he stays until the fox is holed out or run down.

A Trigg won last fall.

Good old Alex Parrish. It's been years since I saw that big kennel of his and looked into that leathery-lined face of his with the squint-eyes under his eyes—the lines all outdoor men have. And Sam Woodbridge, the giant of a man from Versailles, Ky., was a bench show winner. All are great figures—these fox hound men.

And I recall one cold night in the big hotel at Dawson Springs, Ky., and the national of that year.

"Wildcat" Stevens, of a small Mississippi town, had won the national fox horn blowing contest that day. And a group sat up late. Ever and anon the Wildcat would let out a piercing blast on his horn.

Along toward 3 o'clock in the morning some guest across the court raised a window and yelled:

"What in the world do you think you're doing over there?" And the Wildcat, with all the insouciance of a champion, raised the window and yelled back: "Blowing fox horns and drinking liquor. What did you THINK we were doing?"

"LET 'EM EAT CAKE."

While speaking of game conservation, which we were not, one of the current magazines has a story of old slave days. The slaves staged a revolt because they were being fed too often on quail instead of pork!

Which reminds one of the old, old story of the countryman who had heard, and yearned for, the city dish of quail on toast. And when he finally got to the city was disgusted to find it "nothing but a blame patridge on a burnt slice of bread."

THE SADDEST FACE IN THE WORLD.

The saddest face I have ever seen on one of mankind was that one of the face of Mike Chambers, Georgia Tech trainer, as the train rode out of Nashville Saturday night following Tech's loss to Vanderbilt.

Strong men, looking in at Mike, broke down and wept. His face was sad. But his brow was wrinkled with anger. It looked like a thunder cloud above the Connemara mountains.

"We gotta go from now on," said Mike. "We got to go!"

WALKER, SPRINT STAR, TO PLAY ON TECH FIVE

Coach Mundorff Calls Early Squad for Basketball; to Rebuild Team.

By Ralph McGill.

Perrin Walker, sprint champion at Georgia Tech last spring, and this year a sophomore athlete, was one of a selected squad called for basketball practice Monday afternoon by Roy Mundorff, varsity basketball coach.

Walker, one of the best track prospects in the south and believed to be future Olympic team material, is also counted on to relieve the basketball situation at Tech, where five of last year's varsity team have graduated.

A NEW TEAM.

Practically a new team must be built at the Atlanta Athletic Club. Hence the early start. The men called Monday are those who have had some experience in the past. Mundorff hopes to have them advanced before the regular call for practice on December 4.

The Jackets will practice again this week at the Atlanta Athletic Club. A large squad will report in December. Walker has proved to be a real jumper. He was able to out-jump Orr, the regular center of 1932, while with the freshmen. He had never played basketball before but is already an excellent prospect.

Mundorff, who is recognized as one of the nation's outstanding basketball instructors, is president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

His losses are severe but he hopes to be able to build a team which will carry through the season with a fair record of success.

Tech's gymnasium burned down last year and pending arrangements for a new one the Jackets will use the athletic club. An outdoor court, constructed for intramural play, is being used this week.

Much interest centers in the appearance of the brilliant sprinter, Walker, in basketball. Track devotees are also awaiting his appearance against varsity college competition this next spring.

Cronin Wisely Picked Bolton As Pinch-Hitter

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(UP)—Cold, black figures march out today to prove young Joe Cronin, of the Washington Senators, a smart, confident pitcher when he used Pinchhitter Cliff Bolton in the widely debated extra-inning fourth game of the World Series.

Most of the experts and fans criticized Cronin roundly for calling upon Bolton instead of Sam Rice in the eleventh inning, but pinch-hit percentages announced today by the American league showed that Cronin picked a 358 emergency hitter against Rice, a 359 man.

In fact, Cronin called upon the leading pinchhitter in the American league in that crisis.

Here are the American circuit's 10 top pinchhitters for 1933:

Bolton, Washington	17	4	10	4.488
Rice, Chicago	17	4	11	4.411
Harris, Washington	23	10	10	4.400
Smith, Detroit	26	10	8	4.353
Zolty, Boston	23	8	4	4.323
McNair, Philadelphia	16	8	6	4.313
Wade, Chicago	16	8	1	4.290
Fowers, Cleveland	10	3	0	3.500
Myatt, Cleveland	11	8	3	1.275
Webb, St. Chicago	20	4	1	3.277

Ramblers Can't Stand Pressure, Miller States

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 6.—(UP)—The trouble with Notre Dame's faltering football team, as Edgar E. (Rip) Miller, Navy coach, sees it, is "altogether psychological."

"Instead of playing cool, collected football," said Miller today, "they are trying too hard, both for themselves and for Hunt Anderson."

He pointed to the families and mistakes in the pinches Saturday when Navy, although rushed off its feet in midfield and almost pushed about at will, scored a brilliant 7-0 victory over the South Bend team.

"The Notre Dame backs hit fast and hard, and it took four to five Navy players to pull them down time and time again. They have a beautiful blocking line and co-ordinate for first down after first down until they begin to smell a touchdown. Then the tension asserts itself and the mechanical mistakes begin."

These mistakes, Miller said, cannot be blamed on the Notre Dame coach, Hunt Anderson, who has been somewhat under fire because his team has dropped consecutive games to Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh and Navy.

"He's a good coach," said Miller, referring to Anderson, "and Notre Dame showed it had been well trained and well-schooled. To me the entire problem is psychological, the effect of public pressure on the players themselves."

"Notre Dame had scored first Saturday and the players had thus realized that they were clicking and could deliver a scoring punch it is a question as to what the final Ramblers score would have been."

Miller, who was one of the "naules" in the line at Notre Dame during the days of the "Four Horsemen," had nothing but praise for his own team.

Soph Backfield Pleases Jones

RATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 6.—(UP)—Louisiana State University may have an all-sophomore backfield in the remaining season grid games. Captain "Bitt" Jones, Tiger coach, saw a yearling ball carrying quartet composed of Joe Lawrie at quarter, Sesto and Featherstone at halfback and Abe Nickal at full, function pleasingly against South Carolina, so pleasingly that he may use the same setup again no game scheduled for this Saturday. Louisiana today had a rest from practice.

'Gator Star

Jimmy Hughes, varsity full-back of the University of Florida eleven which plays Georgia Tech Saturday, is one of the best defensive backs in the south. Hughes is a good plunger, too. The Fighting 'Gators are expected to give Tech a real battle.

COWBOY MEETS INDIAN ON MAT

Matchmaker Henry Weber has lined up something good for his wrestling patrons at the city auditorium Wednesday night—he has matched a cowboy and an Indian in one of his matches.

Cowboy Jack Russell, the huge Colorado bear twister, will meet Chief Tommy Marvin, the terrible Osage, in the one-hour match. Frank Brunowicz was originally matched with the Indian but a last-minute change had to be made. This match will probably turn out to be one of the roughest seen here. Imagine a cowboy and an Indian in the same ring.

Cowboy Russell is a big, rugged youngster who tips the beam at 220. He is a real bear twister. The Indian, Lewis to a championship wrestling game. Sandow sees a bright future for his young sensation.

In the main match Weber will present a newcomer in the person of Darius Ostapovich, huge Lithuanian champion, against Milo Steinborn, the German Strong Man. This match will be over the two-hour limit. "Ossie" also belongs to the Sandow string, and comes here with a fine reputation as a wrestler. Sandow is working him around to a match with Champion Jimmy London and confidently expects to see him win.

A short preliminary match will open the show at 8:15 o'clock. Tickets are on sale at the Piedmont Hatters, and the University of the South here in order to avoid the rush at the auditorium box office.

WINOOKA RUNS IN SPECIAL TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(UP)—Winooka, the Australian sprinter, was safely installed at Belmont Park today and ready to go after the third major victory of his American tour in a special six furlong race of the United Hurdles meeting.

Against the Australian horse will be arrayed J. Simon Healy's Flying Heels; J. Simonetti's Sergeant Byrne, and the Catwaba Farm's Adive. The Greentree stable's Curacao and the Brookmeade stable's Okapi have been named as alternates should flying Heels or Sergeant Byrne fail to go to the post.

The field, however, has been limited to four horses. The race will run over the main course.

Vandy Regulars Rest, Subs Work

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 6.—(UP)—The subs worked while the varsity rested in the Vanderbilt camp today in the opening workout for the game with the University of the South here Saturday, which will be the Homecoming Day. The squad came through the 9-0-6 win over Georgia Tech without injury.

High School Star Dies of Injuries

HOLYOKE, Mass., Nov. 6.—(UP)—Robert L. Flynn, 16, Holyoke High school football star, died today from injuries in Saturday's game with Cathedral High school at Springfield.

The medical examiner's report said he died at Holyoke hospital from a traumatic puncture of the pancreas, received in the game.

Mehre Praises Photos, No Connections Missed

Harry Mehre, coach of the Georgia football team which defeated Florida Saturday at Jacksonville, was one of many congratulating The Constitution sports department on the pictures of Sunday. The Constitution was the only Atlanta paper carrying pictures of the Georgia victory. In addition to the exclusive Georgia pictures, The Constitution also had photos of the Tech game in Nashville and some exclusive pictures of Atlanta notables at the game.

It was typical Constitution service in that The Constitution did not miss connections on either of the arrangements for pictures. Kenneth Rogers and O. H. Jones drove through the rain with the Georgia pictures. The Nashville pictures were brought here by special air mail. It is the first time action pictures from games played more than 300 miles north of Atlanta and from more than 300 miles south have appeared in an Atlanta paper the next morning. Excepting, of course, those serviced by telephoto. The Constitution calls attention merely because it is typical service—no connections missed.

GEORGIA-YALE IS OUTSTANDING ON WEEK'S CARD

Georgians Are Favored Over Eli; Great Battles Loom.

By Jack Cuddy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(UP)—Saturday will be Armistice Day everywhere except on the nation's gridirons as the football legions unlimber their heavy artillery in thunderous regional and intersectional battles at the season's three-quarter mark.

Pre-battle blueprints presage some of the 1933 campaign's heaviest fighting in five outstanding encounters: Pittsburgh-Duquesne and Yale-Georgia, in the east; Iowa-Michigan, in the midwest, and Oregon-Oregon State, and Southern California-Stanford, on the Pacific coast.

RECORD AT STAKE.

At Pittsburgh, Elmer Layden's Duquesne eleven, topping the nation's unbeaten and untied teams with eight straight victories, will stake its perfect record against the powerful Pitt Panthers. This Duquesne outfit was formidable enough to wallop Detroit, which on Saturday smothered the unbeaten Holy Cross Crusaders, 24-0.

Georgia, one of the two southern leaders, invades Yale at New Haven, in the day's outstanding intersectional clash. Strong enough to crush N. Y. U., 25-0, two weeks ago, the southern Bulldogs are expected to tag the northern Bulldogs with their second defeat.

Pennsylvania tries to repel Ohio State in another intersectional brawl, and other interesting encounters pair unbeaten Army with Harvard, unbeaten Princeton with Dartmouth, Colgate and Ohio Northern, Brown and Syracuse, and Catholic U. and Detroit.

AFTER MICHIGAN.

In the midwest, Iowa, stimulated by a 27-7 win over Iowa State, will attempt to topple the Big Ten leader, Michigan, unbeaten Wolverines, who had a 7-6 escape against Illinois Saturday. Other conference games pair Illinois and Northwestern, and Indiana and Chicago. Michigan and Purdue play outsiders, tackling West Virginia and Notre Dame respectively. Nebraska, leader of the Big Six, has a "breather" in Kansas, while Oklahoma plays Missouri, and Iowa State meets Kansas State.

Fighting reaches blowtorch heat on the Pacific coast, where Oregon, leader of the conference, plays a record against menacing Oregon State, which is still unbeaten although tied twice. In another smashing conference collision, mighty Southern California will try to stand off an improved Stanford eleven. In addition, California meets Washington, outside the conference, and St. Mary's rugged Gaels return from beating Fordham to meet Alonzo Stagg's Pacific eleven; Montana plays Gonzaga; Washington State opposes Idaho, and U. C. L. A. plays San Diego.

DIXIE GAMES.

South of the Mason-Dixon line, there will be somewhat of a lull in hostilities, with Georgia playing Yale in the north, and the other leader, Duke, having a push-over against Maryland.

Southeastern conference games pair the following: Georgia Tech-Florida, Tennessee-Mississippi, Tulane-Mississippi State, Vanderbilt-Sewanee, and Clemson-Corinthian. The conference brings together South Carolina and North Carolina State, and Washington and Lee against Virginia. Meanwhile, Alabama, V. P. I., Auburn-Oglethorpe, and Kentucky-V. M. I., tangle in inter-conference games.

In the southwest, Arkansas, the conference leader, meets last-place Rice, while runner-up Texas tackles Baylor. Texas A. & M. plays Southern Methodist, and Texas Christian opposes North Dakota in an intersectional game.

Roberts, Simons, Bryan Fastest I've Seen--Kerr

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(UP)—Andy Kerr, bantamweight coach of Colgate's strong eleven, doffed his hat today to the speed and agility of Colgate's three fastest backs, whom "Fraser" Roberts, of Tulane, beat his team here Saturday with a 75-yard touchdown run.

"Don't ask me why," said Andy today, "but the speed merchants of football today are all southerners. The north and the west have good backs, but their niftiness in speedy ballcarrying, these southerners are in a class by themselves."

"Roberts, Simons and Bryan, of Tulane, are the three fastest backs I ever have seen on one team."

In addition to scoring the game's lone touchdown, Roberts caught Bogardanski's Colgate end, three yards from the Tulane goal in the final quarter when it appeared as though Colgate would score and preserve a record that up to Saturday showed no defeats since 1921.

Jim Thorpe Enters $100,000 Court Suit

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(UP)—Jim Thorpe, Indian athlete, today filed suit for $100,000 against the Columbia Pictures Corporation, claiming the corporation used his name and picture in advertising "The White Eagle," a show in which he did not appear.

Thorpe, who is now in the hospital, is suing the corporation for $100,000, claiming the corporation used his name and picture in advertising "The White Eagle," a show in which he did not appear.

Myer Rests Well After Operation

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Nov. 6.—(UP)—Buddy Myer, Washington Senators' second baseman successfully underwent an operation for appendicitis here this morning. The attending surgeon explained that the "wound" was of no standing.

Mrs. Myer said her husband had been worried during the recent World Series by abdominal pains, later diagnosed here as appendicitis. Myer, whose home is in nearby Ellenville, Miss., stood the operation well and expected to be on his feet again in a short time, attendants reported.

Cornelia Cyclone

Here is Cy Grant, the Cornelia Cyclone, who is carving his name in the football Hall of Fame over at Athens. Grant is one of the greatest backs ever to don the Red and Black uniform of the University of Georgia and appears headed for All-American honors this season. This Georgia cyclone wrecked Florida Saturday and has played havoc with all opposition this season. Keep up the great work, Cy.

Georgia's Grid Success Fails To Change Boys

Players Remain "Regular Fellows" Despite Team's Sixth Straight Victory.

By Jimmy Jones.

This Georgia football team knows how to take a victory. It should know by now, having taken six victories in a row. But none of them will go to the Bulldogs' heads or chests, where victories usually go when won by the wrong kind of football players.

One is convinced of this after meeting the Bulldogs, as individuals, and chatting easily with them on the Pullman after the strain of a hard game is over.

Coming back from Jacksonville Saturday night, the Georgia team, freshly victorious in its sixth straight game, was just a normal team, not boastful, not exultant or gloating.

They were proud of the 14-0 victory over Florida, of course, just as proud as though it were their first. They spoke casually of the game and of some individual plays, including Cy Grant's 37-yard run, Homer Key's 33-yard run and the work of Captain Batchelor and other of the linemen.

Sam Brown, the Albany (Ga.) boy, spoke anticipatively of the Yale game, wondering if "it would be cold up there." Leroy Young added that that would be a break in view of the unusually warm weather, which they have had thus far. Some of the boys were quiet as they rested in their berths and talked not at all. They all went to bed early.

DON'T BELIEVE IT. One can hear all sorts of rumors about a team that is sweeping along over all opposition. One heard, for example, that the Bulldogs probably would become overconfident and get knocked off one of these Saturdays.

But when one gets an opinion of the Georgia players as individuals, we would say that as a majority they are excellent tempered for the role of success, and in spite of the youth and inexperience of some of their members.

The spirit of some of the non-starting players is admirable. Sam Brown, a fine runner, playing his third year on the team, who does not start. But Sam is a great little chap who does not mind the accolade that comes to Grant and Key, the starting halfbacks. He is only too glad when Harry Mehre tells him to get warmed up and go in there for Grant or Key, as the case may be.

Rex Enright, the Georgia backfield coach, tells an interesting story on Sam Brown. It was of the Yale game, to which all the Bulldogs went eagerly with hopes of playing.

Some of the players were asking Sam how he felt about going up there in the big Yale bowl again and maybe getting loose on one of those long runs.

"That would be great," replied Sam, "but I'll probably be sitting on the bench, watching a real halfback run that day." He was referred to Cy Grant.

SPIRIT EXCELLENT. That kind of spirit pleased the Georgia coaches greatly. But they thought Sam overestimated his own chances. They were fairly sure that Sam would be called on, just as he has been called upon to help settle the issue in earlier games. While not as big or strong as Grant and not the triple threat that "Salivating Cy" is, he is one of the most spectacular open field runners in the south and a great competitor.

As for players like Graham Batchelor, Homer Key, Buck Chapman, Charley Turbyville, Moorehead, McCullough, John Brown, West and others, their attitude can't be best. These men are all high types and unruffled by lavish praise or publicizing. Leroy Young, Bill David and other reserves are well experienced and used to the going, also.

One or two of the sophomores might become a bit chummy, but this is not at all likely. Count on the coaches to handle them, if they should.

The trip to Florida was the first the writer had made with this year's Georgia team. Having made many Continued on Second Sports Page.

LONG PRACTICE GIVEN JACKETS AS WEEK OPENS

Tech Faces Hard Battle With 'Gators and Need All Men.

By Ralph McGill.

John Wilcox and Bob Warner, Georgia Tech guards, are feared lost for the Florida game of Saturday at Grant field, a game in which the Jackets will need all their regulars and reserves if victory is to be snatched from the fanatical Saurians.

Both were injured in the Vanderbilt game. Warner appeared at practice yesterday but he was on crutches, holding an injured ankle very carefully off the earth.

Wilcox was hobbling badly and unable to practice.

"It will be a fight to get them back," said Mike Chambers, Tech's splendid trainer. "I have some hopes about Wilcox but am worried about Warner's chances of playing."

BADLY NEEDED.

Chambers has a good record as a trainer at Tech. It is especially good this year. He has not had a man out of any game played this year, correcting injuries with remarkable speed.

Wilcox, one of the brothers from Texas who have rendered unto Tech some magnificent guard play, plays regularly and will be needed badly. Warner is an almost invaluable substitute.

The Jackets went through a long but not arduous practice Monday, working out some of the stiffest kinks generated by the trip to Nashville.

Loss of the Vanderbilt game was a heart-breaker. The Jackets should have won a fluke play, a pass batted into a Vanderbilt end's hands, gave the Commodores their winning touchdown in the last moments of play.

MISERABLE LUCK.

The Jackets have had enough miserable luck to break their morale. But this team has a tough morale and keeps going.

The Florida game, which will be played Saturday afternoon, appears as one of the greatest football games of the year—another Vanderbilt game all over with two great defenses at work.

Tech showed improved play against the Commodores. The touchdown play, and the plays leading to it, were masterpieces. The actual scoring play, a running forward pass from Chick Galloway to Wilbur Peterson, was a brilliant piece of football.

The quarterbacks showed increasing knowledge. Tech began the year without a quarterback of experience. Against North Carolina the tendency was to stick to line plays. This enabled the Tarheels to bunch their defense. Saturday the Jackets injected up their plays so the Vanderbilt defense was loosened up. That is as loose as any defense as strong as theirs can be loosened. They got it wide open for the touchdown pass.

'GATORS TOUGH.

Mack Karppe, who scouted Florida against Georgia, said Monday that Florida would be one of the most difficult teams on the jacket schedule.

Injured players, who mean much to the Florida attack, were out Saturday. They will be back against Tech.

One of these is Jack Henderson, whose specialty is returning punts. He is also a quarterback for the team. When he is in the Florida backfield is much more effective.

Tech will not scrimmage before Wednesday, unless pregame plans are changed.

Shearer Shifted To Center.

HOLDEN TO SPEED U. S. HOME LOANS

Georgia Manager Tells Traffic Club of Plans for Hastening Program.

Plans for speeding up the disposition of federal home loans indicate that within two weeks' time the Georgia district will be closing loans at the rate of 15 to 20 a day instead of the present pace of seven or eight a day, Frank Holden, Georgia manager, announced Monday on the eve of a visit to Atlanta today of A. E. Hutchinson, general manager of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

Mr. Holden, in speaking Monday at the luncheon of the Traffic Club at Atlanta at the Athletic Club, said that the Georgia closed loans are nearing the 100 mark, with $242,038.57 in cash and bonds already distributed. Five hundred have been approved and are ready for closing, he said. Mr. Hutchinson is coming to Atlanta to see the set-up of the Georgia organization, note progress and discuss the needs of the state organization to close loans more quickly, Mr. Holden said. Georgia's rate of closing loans is far above that of most of the other states, he said.

"In 90 days the United States has set up the largest loan organization in the world, with $2,000,000,000 in bonds and $200,000,000 in cash, and when you consider the fact that it would take 60 years to count up to 2,000,000,000, you will realize the need of patience on the part of mortgage holders and home owners in closing the loans," Mr. Holden told the Traffic Club.

"Some of the people seem to be getting restless, and they should realize that a home loan is a complicated affair to close, and that it must be closed right," Mr. Holden said. He referred to the home loan as one of the best agencies for putting the unemployed back to work, as repairs must be made on all houses before the loans are made. "And," he said, "this means the purchase of material, and also, business for the railroads, as the material must be transported."

Mr. Holden said that "when you have a man's home, you make him a better citizen." He recalled some of the experiences of his organization, and read a letter from a woman, an secretary of a bank official who said that "obtaining 15 years in which to clear my little home is like having that many years added to my life, and undoubtedly the relief from strain will increase my efficiency in my employment."

Discussing the details of the home loan organization, Mr. Holden said that owners are not eligible for loans if the mortgage company will carry them for a time or if they are at all able to borrow the money to put their loans in good standing.

One of the large insurance companies which at first refused to take the government's insurance for mortgages is now co-operating to the extent of printing the government's forms for use in its offices, Mr. Holden reported. He added that all insurance companies in Georgia, with the exception of two, are accepting the bonds.

Mother Pays State For Fugitive's Return

So badly does an Atlanta woman want her son to be a law-abiding citizen back in the chain gang to serve the two-year balance of his sentence that she is willing to pay the costs of returning him from Kansas City, where he was captured last week.

The woman is Mrs. A. H. Glynn, of 777 Cherokee avenue, and the son is Robert A. Glynn, who escaped from the Murray county chain gang several months ago.

Glynn was caught in Kansas City, where he is being held pending action by Georgia authorities. Mrs. Glynn visited the capital Monday and found that authorities were debating letting her son go because of the expense of returning him to the state. She told T. M. Linder, executive secretary to Governor Eugene Talmadge, that she was willing to pay the costs of his return in order that he could complete the sentence and be no longer a fugitive. Mr. Linder told her it would be acceptable and she produced $50. The state probably will make up the balance.

Glynn has twice previously escaped from the gang and on both occasions the state put up the money to return him.

LINDY PLANS FLIGHT TO SWITZERLAND TODAY

THE HAGUE, Nov. 6.—(P)—Colonel Charles L. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh visited Premier Hendrik Colijn today, and also called on the ministers of defense and public works. They planned to fly to Switzerland tomorrow but are undecided whether to stop at Paris en route.

How To Relieve Headaches In Three Minutes

Automobile Meets Fate When Rear Axle Breaks

Fate overtakes a lot of folk but it is not every man who goes out of his way to meet Fate. Consider the case of L. F. Moody, 603 Pulliam street. The rear axle on his automobile broke suddenly Monday afternoon while he was driving across Decatur street on Central avenue. His car shimmied and shook, quivered and jumped, and the first thing Moody knew there was Fate—Fate Ogletree, instructor at 119 Dayton street.

Mr. Moody's automobile grazed Fate, cut his arm slightly and scared him so badly it was debatable which has shaken the most, the automobile with a broken axle or Fate. Both soon regained their equilibrium. As for Mr. Moody, he was willing to trade Fate's equilibrium for a new axle, but Fate thought that wasn't his destiny.

BIG INCREASE SHOWN IN PRICE OF PEANUTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(P)—The Federal Agricultural Department said today that October prices for peanuts were about 65 per cent of the 1929-30 average, production costs in 1933 were the lowest in many years.

The department warned against any increased acreage next year in anticipation of good prices.

The report said the estimated 1,387,000 acres of peanuts to be harvested this year is about 13 below the record acreage of 1932, but about 11 per cent above the average for the five years, 1927-31.

"The October estimated yield of about 640 pounds per acre," the report continued, "slightly exceeds the low 1932 yield but is about 11 per cent below the average for the preceding five years."

"The preliminary estimated production of about 890,000,000 pounds is 112,000,000 pounds under the 1932 crop, and is 11,000,000 pounds below the average for the preceding five years."

"The 1933 acreage was decreased from the 1932 figure in both the Virginia-North Carolina and southeastern sections, but was practically the same as the 1932 acreage in the southern states."

Board To Appraise Two Georgia Banks

R. E. Gormley, state superintendent of banks, said Monday that the Empire Trust Company of Atlanta and the Macon Savings Bank of Macon would be appraised immediately by a committee selected by the Sixth Federal Reserve District Deposit Liquidation Committee with a view to liquidating the institutions with funds provided by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Because the state law forbids the superintendent from borrowing against the assets of closed banks, the RFC will have to advance the funds to a corporation which, in turn, will purchase the assets of the institutions.

These are the first two Georgia institutions to share in the plan, and Mr. Gormley said the same procedure would be followed in the case of four other closed state banks if successful.

Marshall Hunter, of Macon, Georgia member of the liquidation committee which is headed by R. B. Russell, Jr., president of the Fulton National bank, is expected to announce the appraisal boards for the two banks in a day or two.

Talmadge, Russell On Same Platform

Governor Eugene Talmadge and Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., who many believe will oppose each other for the senate in 1936, will speak from the same platform at Blackshear Friday but at different hours and on different programs.

Friday is "Community Day" in Blackshear, and the observance will be marked by a parade and other ceremonies. Senator Russell will speak immediately after the parade at 11:30 o'clock in the morning and Governor Talmadge will address the people of the area at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Neither has announced his subject, but because of the proximity of Armistice Day they are expected to discuss events following the war.

On Saturday the governor will speak at Hazelhurst, while Russell will speak at LaGrange.

Effect of Smoke-Fog Upon Health Cited in Plea for Air Cleanliness

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(P)—There is still death in the invisible chemical fog hanging over cities, possibly even a cancer irritant, the New York Academy of Medicine was told tonight.

This report was made by H. B. Muller, air pollution expert, of Mellon Institute. He made a plea for the medical profession to clean up what he called the "atmospheric sewage."

"In view of the fact," he said, "that an amazing drop in the death rate in cities has been gained despite the persistence of air pollution, it may be thought in some quarters that atmospheric contamination has been over-emphasized as an agency inimical to health."

"Thirty years ago the life expectancy of the city-born child was some seven years under that of his country cousin. The building up of public health control to the point where it has approximately wiped out this disparity constitutes one of the most marvelous achievements scored under medical leadership."

"But a close examination of the statistics develops some interesting findings. The major portion of the gain in city health has been made during the five bright months of the year. In those months city death rates drop below the rural rates. But in the seven darker months city death rates uniformly exceed the rural rates. "The country areas are relatively free from smoke the year round. The cities suffer most from smoke concentrations in the seven darker months. In that same period acute diseases of the respiratory tract, where irritational effects from smoke are most marked, have not decreased proportionately with other diseases."

"Fatalities from cancer are more numerous and the suggestion of their association with concentrations of tarry soot apparently has been strengthened by the recent identification of cancer-inducing substances in tar."

"Under present ordinances only such smoke as is so dense that the stream is opaque as it leaves the stack is prohibited. Smoke less dense is permitted, as are emissions of coke particles, cinders, ash high in silica, unburned oil and sulfur gases."

FRENCH WINERIES MAD AT IMITATIONS

PARIS, Nov. 6.—(UP)—French wine producers were indignant today on discovering that wine merchants in the United States are using French wine names in advertising their wares. The wine dealers, on the eve of repeal of prohibition in the United States, received American wine list advertising quoting "extra-fancy California wines—Burgundy, Chamberlain, Sauterne, Chateau Quen and Riesling"—and at once urged the government to protest against this use of French names.

It was understood the headquarters of the international wine committee in Paris is calling attention of the French commercial attaché in Washington to the matter.

GERMAN ARRIVES IN U. S. TO EXPLAIN PROGRAM OF NAZIS

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(P)—Captain George Schmitt, official emissary of Germany's steel helmet federation, arrived here today to explain nationalism to German-Americans.

Captain Schmitt disembarked from the Bremen. At his hotel suite, he explained the purposes of his visit to the United States.

His is a two-fold mission, he said—political and business. Until the middle of December he will make a coast-to-coast tour, as liaison man for the Nazis and to study the liquor markets of the nation in anticipation of prohibition repeal.

Captain Schmitt's family owns one of Germany's largest vineyards in private hands. Before prohibition, America was one of his greatest markets for Rhine wines.

He intends to reorganize the steel helmet groups in the United States.

Senior Hadassah Will Sponsor Ball and Cabaret on Nov. 10

The Atlanta chapter of Senior Hadassah has perfected final plans for the major activity of the year—a ball and cabaret—to be held at the Shrine on Tuesday, November 14, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. S. A. Goldberg is program chairman, and with her leadership it promises to be a success. The Hadassah annual ball is one of the outstanding social events and all the proceeds are devoted entirely to hospitalization and relief work in Palestine.

An added feature will be the cabaret, presenting Rodna E. Rodolph and Wilda E. Wood, popular Spanish-American dance artists of Reno, Nev. This accomplished dance team has been featured with Belle Livingstone in motion pictures, and recently gave an exhibition at the World's Fair, where they introduced Rodna's latest dance creation, "The Romantic Parisian Kiss Waltz."

In addition to this waltz he will dance the Argentine Tango and a modernistic novelty hop. This new waltz creation received great acclaim at "The Street of Paris" and his fair to become as popular as the Argentine tango, made famous by the late Valentino. Another interesting feature the program will be Charlie Segar, keyboard wizard, who plays the piano with the keyboard completely covered by a cloth. He plays the piano with one hand and with the other hand plays a trumpet or two clarinets.

A trio of charming girls of Junior Hadassah, known for their beauty and wit, will act as cigarette girls, and will wear appropriate costumes. The hostesses will be Mrs. Louis Rittenbaum and Mrs. Harry Rittenbaum. The important task of the selling of the tickets is in the hand of Mrs. Floyd Brandes and Mrs. Max Medel. Refreshments of sandwiches, cakes, hot and cold drinks will be served at the ball at the World's Fair, where the feature are Mesdames E. A. Joseph, I. M. Wiesten and J. Jacobs.

It is urgently advised that those desiring tables make their reservations early, as tables will be reserved towards the center of the ballroom in the priority in which made. Those desiring information, please call Mrs. J. J. Hellman at Vernon 2895.

Social News of Varied Interest

Poetry Forum of the Atlanta Writers' Club met Sunday at the home of Mrs. J. E. Allen. The chairman of the group, Clarence L. Haynie, presided. First prize in a sonnet contest was won by Miss Margaret Steedman. Entries, which were limited to subject to some phase of Greece or Rome, were judged by Miss Cora-Paxon Stewart, well-known Atlanta writer. Miss Steedman's sonnet, "On Seeing Schieman's Excavations at Troy," was in the Petrarchan form. The first prize was a copy of Ernest Hartsock's "Strange Splendor," "Life's Acropolis" by Dr. Wightman F. Melton, editor of Bazar, received first honorable mention, while "A Crumbling Grecian Palace Speaks," by Miss Maude Lay Elton, won second honorable mention. Miss Bernice Johnson presented a group of vocal solos, with self accompaniment at the piano. An interesting feature of the program was a brief discussion of religious verse, given by the Rev. Armstrong, of Decatur. Dr. Armstrong, who is compiling an anthology of prayer poetry, has requested that Atlanta poets who have written verse get in touch with him. Among original poems read were "Requiem," by Miss Cora-Paxon Stewart, and verse by Duke Meredith, Edmund among others. The first named poem was a tribute to the late W. L. Strubling. The Forum will meet Sunday, November 19, with Mrs. Agnes Cochran, Brainerd, at her home in Forsyth, Ga. Mrs. Bramblett is author of two books of poetry, and her work has been widely published. Those who expect to attend this meeting should notify Clarence L. Haynie by mail at 50 Spring street, S. E., or Miss Margaret Steedman, 1048 Cumberland road, Hemlock 2259-W. Those attending are expected to bring original manuscripts for reading and criticism.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Mott were hosts to the members of the Jolly Elites Bridge Club and their husbands at a party at their home on Kirkwood avenue, recently. ## November Dances Are Announced By Athletic Club

The program of social activities planned for the month of November by the Atlanta Athletic Club includes two interesting dinner-dances. Both dances will be held at the East Lake Country Club, the first, which will be in the nature of an Armistice Day celebration, to take place Saturday evening, November 11. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock, preceded by dinner, and the affair will assemble a throng of the club's members and a number of out-of-town visitors, who will be in the city to attend the football game to be played at Grant field Saturday afternoon between Georgia Tech and the University of Florida.

The club's management also announces a Thanksgiving ball to be held Saturday evening, November 25, at the country club. A southern turkey dinner will be served from 8 to 10 o'clock, and dancing will continue until 1 o'clock. The ball will be among the brilliant events scheduled for the Thanksgiving season, and will attract a throng of guests from the city and will be in the city to attend the annual Tech-Georgia football game to be played at Grant field on that date.

Atlantans Honored In Nashville, Tenn.

The Sunday edition of the Nashville (Tenn.) Banner carried an attractive photograph of Mrs. L. V. Robert Jr. of Atlanta, and her lovely young daughter, Miss Louisa Robert, with the following comment: "Mrs. Lawrence W. Robert and daughter, Miss Louisa Robert, came to Nashville with Mr. Robert, who is assistant secretary of the United States treasury and who came to take part in the exercises at the laying of the cornerstone of the new postoffice Saturday morning. Miss Robert had also an especial interest in the Vanderbilt-Georgia Tech football game as she is sponsor of the Georgia Tech team. This popular Atlanta girl, who is a former student at Agnes Scott College, has an enviable athletics record on her own account as a swimmer, specializing in the back stroke. She was a member of the national olympic swimming team at Los Angeles, but was prevented by an attack of appendicitis from entering the matches."

Atlanta Unit No. 1 Of Legion Auxiliary.

Once a year, the Atlanta Unit No. 1, of American Legion Auxiliary, speaks the generosity of Atlanta citizens in behalf of the World War veterans, who find themselves dependent because of disabilities incurred during the conflict. Mrs. Paul J. McGovern is president of Atlanta Unit No. 1, and the members will assist on Friday, November 10, in Atlanta. The funds raised through the sale of poppies go entirely to the relief of World War veterans and their families. It is also used for child welfare work regardless of whether the child being helped happens to be the child of a veteran or not. In the case of a child in distress, no questions as to its parentage are asked, the emergency is met, and the future of the child is attended to by the American Legion auxiliaries. To these men, their families and to childhood in general, is the poppy fund dedicated in its entirety, not one cent is ever used for organization needs.

For Miss Lee.

Lee, Jr. and Mrs. John Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Voorhis Sr. and Jack Hickey assisted the hosts in entertaining. The table in the dining room was adorned with a silver bowl filled with exquisite pink Radiance roses, silver candlesticks with unshaded pink tapers, and pink bonbons in compartments carrying out the color motif.

WHAT WAS GONE BEFORE:

Henry Hume, Sue Sundry's employer, takes her along to help Mathilda Featherstone, his secretary, who he goes to Paris on business, and Sue and Matty are so busy they see nothing of the brilliant French capital. The first evening of the return voyage to New York aboard the Toulon, Jeffrey Randall saves Sue from pitching overboard in a sudden storm. Contrasting Sue in Jeff's presence, Mrs. Hume accuses her of being her husband's companion in Paris. The next evening, with no demonstration of love, that in seven days he will be 27 years old and if he is not married, that he is bringing home a fortune to his parents, Beatrice and Cyril, under the will of his Uncle Gifford (Grizzly). Sue agrees. She tells Jeff that her widowed mother married Herman Featherstone and that she has been seeing every spare cent home so her stepfather will not take Tommy, her younger brother, out of school and put him to work. Jeff, who is a lawyer, asks Sue to marry him. She agrees. Jeff asks Sue to go to his town house, although Jeff had planned hurriedly to the marriage license bureau. While Jeff is at Gifford's office the next day, Sue is knocked unconscious by a man in a dark suit, "Grizzly," which mysteriously becomes dislodged from a wall niche as he descends the stairs. Disregarding the doctor, she motors to the country with Jeff and they are married. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT XXIV.

"The man with the shock of white hair was speaking—the parson: "I shall claim the privilege of my office." He leaned down and touched his lips to Sue's brow.

Jeffrey said, "Why yes. Of course." The color had come back to his face now in a flood. He leaned forward, eyes hungry, lips seeking. Then abruptly he dropped Sue's hand, stepped backward and asked, with an effort to steady his voice, "That's all there is to it?"

The parson observed Jeffrey sharply. Funny sort of bridegroom. Funny sort of bride, too, come to think of it. Business like, both of them. He hoped there was nothing unethical about the marriage. Nothing irregular. Probably not. Young folks nowadays were queer ones.

"That's all there is to it," the parson said, chucking to break the tension. "I'm glad of that," Mathilda bustled over to put an arm about Sue's waist. "The solemnity was going to my knees. My congratulations to you, Jeffrey, and to you, Sue. May you live long and happily together."

Sue thinking: It's ridiculous of Matty putting that emphasis on the "together," when she knows we'll do nothing of the sort.

The man of all work, who looked after the church and the parsonage garden and who had been summoned to act as a witness to the marriage, twirled a battered hand between gnarled fingers. "I'm wishin' you young 'uns 'ere, be happy as my Molly here an' me,"

Aunt Het

"Aunt Het! But, Matty, you don't smoke." "I didn't. I'm taking it up." "Mathilda accepted a lighted cigarette from Jeffrey's fingers. "I've got to do something to steady my nerves. The way I've been, I'll be in an observation ward before I can remember my name is Featherstone."

After midnight. The long, lean limousine humming toward Fifth avenue. "Here's the idea, Sue," Jeffrey said. "You've had a rather bad accident. A hint on the head. You're feeling so well. Just lean on my arm and I'll take care of the rest."

"But Jeff, I'm feeling marvelous. I could build in the building in one bound." Sue, leaning on Jeffrey's arm, despite her protestation. "That's because the bust of Uncle Grizzly put you out of bounds." Jeff pressed the leaning head. "You're a very sick woman. You're bust drunk."

Mathilda crushed her third cigarette into a silver gadget at the side of the car. "And what do I do for the good of the cause?" she asked. "Let me see your pocketbook. Good. It isn't a pocketbook. It's a handbag. Great. Make it look useful. Full of restorative. Sue is about to pass out at any minute and in that bag you have the things that will keep her from passing out."

"Fair enough," Mathilda fluffed out her bag as a good housewife fluffs a pillow. "But you're both forgotten."

By VICTOR EUBANK.
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(P)—Uniform heaviness in United States government securities tended to keep bond dealers on the sidelines and left the market with little or no effective support today.

Most domestic groups had a sagging day. Transfers were comparatively small at $10,241,000 against $14,604,000 on Friday. The average price of 60 corporation bonds was 102.12, down from 102.15 on Friday. The average price of 60 government bonds was 102.12, down from 102.15 on Friday.

In registering further declines ranging from 8-32 to 23-32 point United States treasury notes continued virtually unbroken. The past fortnight's downward drift. Liberty's were less affected although the 3-12s yielded 10-32 of a point.

A few advances appeared in the semi-speculative groups, but the major trend was down.

There were losses of as much as two points in some of the Eastern and Ohio, New York Central and Northern Pacific. Exceptions to the downward drift in utility and industrial securities were the 4-12s of the American Telephone and Telegraph, which gained 1-16, and the 4-12s of the American Rolling Mill, which gained 1-16.

Market Outlook

By MAX BUCKINGHAM.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(UP)—Wall Street was hopeful tonight that the election day holiday might end recent market lethargy.

Today's session was another dreary affair. Trading was at almost a minimum and prices eased. Commodities did not respond readily to the sharp drop in the dollar which came in the afternoon. The market for foreign exchange was quiet, with the dollar falling to a low of 18.35 per cent from the previous day.

There were a few announcements after the close. These included the fact that the General Motors Corporation had declared an extra dividend of 25 cents in addition to the regular 25-cent quarterly payment.

American Iron and Steel Institute announced current steel production was 25.2 per cent of capacity as against 26.1 per cent of capacity last week.

Estimates were made that the Bell system will show an increase in telephone installations in October although not so great as the 53,000 installations in September.

OIL EARNINGS GAIN

Oil companies continued to show improved earnings, and the market for oil was buoyant.

But the chief point to note was the market was confused. The farm strike in the middle west, uncertainty over the monetary policy and continuing recession in industry were red lights before traders who may have sufficient incentive to come into the market.

Other points market students had to think about were:

Textile mills in the south report that buyers now are showing little interest.

The government announced it was buying "substantial amounts" of gold in the world market.

National distillers stockholders agreed for a 3-for-1 stock split-up.

Odd lot buying has increased lately.

Mines booming.

Receipts of non-mined gold in the Denver district are up about 100 per cent over last year with mining houses reported in such cities as Cripple Creek.

R. L. Polk & Co. report new passenger car sales in October in 102 cities show 129,000 units, a decline of 18.35 per cent from the previous month.

Strikes continue in the Pennsylvania coal fields.

Several merchandising companies report improvement, although Woolworth showed a 2 per cent decline.

Efforts continue towards establishing a sugar stabilization agreement.

Private estimates indicate a cotton crop larger than estimated on October 1. The government report will come Wednesday.

Maxim Litvinoff arrives in the United States tomorrow morning to start Russian recognition negotiations with President Roosevelt.

Silver prices continue to advance with a new high in several years touched today at 41 1/2 cents an ounce. Many estimates 50 cents an ounce as the silver price within a short while.

Car loadings, thus far reported, compare unfavorably with the preceding week.

Uncertainty over elections in various cities on municipal ownership of power companies.

25c Extra Dividend Declared by G.M.C.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—An extra dividend of 25 cents was declared on the common stock by General Motors Corporation today—its first extra in three years.

The extra dividend will represent an additional disbursement of approximately $13,000,000 to the 100,000 stockholders. The disbursement will be made on December 12, so that it will constitute what Wall Street calls a "Christmas dividend."

For the first nine months of this year General Motors earned $74,500,000, or $1.73 a share, on the common stock.

Mr. Sloan said, justified in making the extra payment in view of "the unusually strong financial condition of the corporation and growing volume to the earnings for the first nine months."

Those figures contrasted sharply with those of a year ago, when the corporation's third-quarter report revealed earnings for the nine months were but $10,555,177, or 8 cents a share, on the common stock.

On September 30 this year the corporation had cash and marketable securities on hand amounting to $252,566,172, not counting money in closed banks, compared with $209,008,832 on the same day in 1932.

Earnings.

Small Tobacco Crop

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(P)—Despite an increase in tobacco consumption, the agriculture department's annual "outlook" said today a smaller crop in 1934 is expected to maintain a satisfactory price.

The report said flue-cured tobacco, grown chiefly in the Carolinas, Virginia and Georgia, is the only type of local supply of which "is only slightly above normal."

It described the supplies of Burley and cigar types as "particularly burdensome" and listed those of Maryland, fire-cured and dark air-cured types as "materially above normal."

The estimated 1933 crop of flue-cured tobacco was 1,200,000 bales, compared with 1,100,000 bales in 1932. The report said, "is about 20 per cent larger than the probable consumption but because of last year's reduction of domestic and foreign carry-over the total supply is only slightly above normal."

The increased tobacco consumption was found to be coincident with the increase of pay rolls from May to September.

In comparison with 1932, cigars increased 16 per cent; large cigars, 5 per cent; manufactured tobacco, 5 per cent, and snuff, 8 per cent.

REDUCE AREA CALL NEW ARMS MEET

Mussolini, Goering Talk Over Stalemate in Geneva Conference.

By ANDRUE BERDING.

ROME, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The possibility that Premier Mussolini will call meeting of four European powers and the United States to consider the disarmament stalemate was seen by well-informed circles here today after 11 Duce and Hermann Wilhelm Goering, German minister without portfolio, had an hour conference.

General Goering, who arrived with a retinue by airplane this afternoon, and the premier talked in the latter's Venezia palace office about disarmament, recovery in the Danubian area, and Austria, reliable quarters said.

The conversation on disarmament was said to have revolved around the method to be pursued to reopen the arms parity, broken off shortly after Germany withdrew from Geneva.

Mussolini was understood to have sounded out General Goering—who was dressed in his full uniform—on what concessions Germany is willing to make in her demands for "equality in arms" before the start of a new arms conference.

It was considered most likely that the Italian premier will make no more to invite Germany, France, Great Britain and the United States to talk things over until after November 12, when Germany will vote in a plebiscite on the Nazi regime's foreign policy.

GIRL IS WINNING COLLEGE COURSE BY SHINING SHOES

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—(AP)—A college girl is putting a practical touch to the old rule about "where there's a will there's a way."

She's shining shoes for a living in Chicago's Loop and doesn't mind the job!

She's Ruth Benton, 20, but that's not her real name. She assumed the name after coming from the east, where she said she attended college. Ruth isn't shining shoes for experience, but is doing the job to earn her board and room rent and thus far has averaged a dollar a day.

Women, she told a reporter, apparently are shunning Ruth's shining stand.

"One woman," she said, "came up to me and asked me a lot of questions. She said she was a psychologist and asked me if I was doing this for experience. I said I was doing it for a living. She said, 'How interested?'"

"Apparently she was too interested to get a shine."

Ruth isn't discouraged. Her cry, "Shine 'em up, shine 'em up," continues to ring in a cheerful voice.
